U.S. Documents Charges Against N. Viet Nam

FATAL TO TWO—A bridge over Walnut river near Douglass, Kansas, collapsed and two vehicles plunged 40 feet into the river, killing two persons and injuring four others. Officers said a truck loaded with milo grain and weighing 41½ tons had crossed the bridge shortly before the 70-foot section collapsed. The posted weight capacity of the 30-year-old bridge was said to be ten tons. (NEA Telephoto)

Jets Pound Jungle Near Xuyen Moc Every 20 Minutes

XUYEN MOC, South Viet Nam (AP)—American B57 jet bombers pounded the jungles near here once every 20 minutes Saturday in a joint air-ground operation designed to smoke out and destroy large concentrations of Viet Cong believed hidden there. By nightfall ground troops had made no contact with Red guerrillas, however.

"They're out there somewhere," a U.S. military adviser said, "and somehow I don't think those B57s are making them very happy."

About 1,600 South Vietnamese troops moved into the jungles after the bombing attacks seeking out Viet Cong and possible arms depots.

Xuyen Moc is 50 miles southeast of Saigon and is just about 10 miles from Binh Gia, the site of a brutal ground battle two months ago in which government losses were heavy.

Heavy concentrations of Viet Cong were believed still in the vicinity.

The explosions of 750-pound and 500-pound bombs loosed by the U.S. Air Force jets shook the earth. At sunset thick smoke hung over the jungle.

South Vietnamese troops hacked out a 300-yard airstrip after securing one area to permit supply planes to land with arms, ammunition and fuel.

The first supplies came shortly afterward in a twin-engine U.S. Army Caribou flown by Capt. Glen A. Leister, Kinzfisher, Okla., and Capt. Herbert Beson, Bearden, Ark. The plane needed only half the length of the strip to land. It took off after unloading.

Ground troops came into the area in 137 helicopters, the largest number of helicopters ever used in such an operation in this war.

Vietnamese forces have been grappling with the Viet Cong in the area for several days. The guerrillas have been elusive.

Government forces also struck in several parts of Binh Dinh Province, 270 miles northeast of Saigon. There were no reports on the progress of the operations there. Viet Cong forces have been making inroads in the Binh Dinh area recently.

U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor flew off on a tour of five northern provinces to make political and military soundings. He conferred in Hue, a Buddhist center, with U.S. Consul Sam Thompson, then went to Da Nang to inspect U.S. installations there.

Woman Okay After Injection Of Snake Venom

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Miss Mary Rayborn left General Hospital on Saturday after waiting out a 24-hour danger period on effects of 'deadly' snake venom. She came through it fine, with the help of certain medical precautions.

Miss Rayborn, 24, accidentally injected herself with the coral snake venom in a University of Louisville Medical School laboratory Friday morning. Aiding in a research project seeking an antivenom serum, she was trying to inject an animal when the needle struck the middle finger of her left hand.

Dr. Joseph F. Gennaro Jr., head of the project, said she never had any symptoms but precautions were taken in case the dose had been heavy. Blood was donated in Florida by a snake handler who, through many bites, has built up immunity. The blood was flown by Air Force jet to Louisville and a serum made from it given to Miss Rayborn.

Indonesia Orders Closing Of USIS Installations

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesia's official news agency Antara reported Saturday that Foreign Minister Subandrio has ordered the closing of all U.S. Information Service installations in Indonesia, but Subandrio later qualified the report.

Asked whether the USIS Library in Jakarta would be shut down, he replied:

"I will have to discuss this matter with (U.S.) Ambassador Jones."

Subandrio said the government had decided to close down the USIS Library in Medan, North Sumatra, because it has become "a source of conflict."

A mob of Communist-inspired youths attacked the U.S. consulate in Medan Feb. 17.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said Ambassador Howard P. Jones was seeking an appointment with President Sukarno to check the story. An Indonesian foreign office spokesman said he would check with Subandrio before making an official statement.

"As from this moment on the USIS will no longer poison your thoughts," Antara quoted Subandrio as telling a student rally last Thursday in Medan, North Sumatra. "All activities and operations of USIS in Indonesia will no longer be tolerated to poison the Indonesian people way of thinking."

The report coincided with an official government announcement confirming that Indonesia has taken over management of an estimated $80 million worth of U.S.-owned rubber plantations in North Sumatra. Antara said Subandrio signed an order for the takeover a week ago and that the American owners have been granted to accept "no alternative but to accept" the decision. The news agency quoted Minister of Plantations Frans Seda.

SHOWDOWN—Businessmen in Harlem were under threat of boycott if they did not close in honor of Malcolm X during the funeral of the slain extremist leader. Special details of police stood guard to prevent any harassment of shopkeepers by Malcolm's followers. (NEA Telephoto)

Malcolm X Buried; Threats Of Violence Fail To Materialize

NEW YORK (AP)—Malcolm X, the slain black nationalist leader whose life was marked by turbulence and hatred for the white man, was laid to rest peacefully Saturday after Muslim rites attended by thousands and guarded by a virtual army of police.

While high tension pervaded the Harlem Negro section of Manhattan, threatened violence failed to materialize. Anonymous callers had telephoned a number of threats that the church would be bombed.

As it turned out, only one incident marred the calm which prevailed in and around the church.

Just before Malcolm's coffin was borne from the church, there was a crash of glass and loud yelling in nearby West 147th Street. Police rushed to the scene but returned to their posts shortly, reporting that the disturbance was merely "family trouble"—a quarrel.

About 1,000 mourners filled the Faith Temple Church of God in Christ, Protestant, which had volunteered its facilities as a "humanitarian gesture" for the Muslim service.

Several thousand more listened to the eulogies over loudspeakers set up on the street outside, and hundreds of others watched from windows of dwellings in the vicinity. A portion of the rites was televised nationally.

Malcolm's widow, dressed in black and her face covered by a heavy black veil, sat at the front of the church with relatives and friends. She is pregnant with a fifth child.

Sobs, moans and applause broke the silence often during the 55-minute service.

Ahmed Hassoun, representative of the Islamic Center in Geneva, Switzerland, looked down at Malcolm's white-robed body as it lay facing eastward toward Mecca in a burnished copper casket, and evoked heavy applause when he told the audience:

"The highest thing a Muslim can aspire to is to die on the battlefield and not at the bedside."

Again there was prolonged applause when the speaker said that "those who die on the battlefield are not dead—they are alive."

The principal eulogy was delivered by Ossie Davis, Negro actor, writer, producer and friend of Malcolm.

Davis termed Malcolm a "brave and gallant young champion" for the cause of his people in their fight for equality and civil rights. The 39-year-old Muslim, said Davis, "lies before us unconquered still."

He said Malcolm's death would help "to bring us together now" and declared that Malcolm was "a prince—our own black, shiny prince—who did not hesitate to die because he loved us so."

King Plans Huge Attack On Voting Bars In Alabama

SELMA, Ala. (AP)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. has marshaled his followers for the biggest massive assault on voting barriers since the new civil rights struggle began in Alabama.

If King's plans materialize as he hopes, the six-week-old campaign in Selma will pick up momentum with another march to the courthouse on registration day Monday while other Negroes line up to register simultaneously in four neighboring counties.

In one of the counties, Perry, the renewal of the vote drive finds Negroes aroused by the death of a laborer shot during bloody violence Feb. 18 at Marion.

The young worker, Jimmy Lee Jackson, 26, died in a Selma hospital Friday of a massive infection resulting from a bullet wound in the stomach.

King, who has spearheaded the Alabama civil rights campaign, has been away from Selma since Tuesday night. In his absence, subordinates temporarily abandoned the almost daily street demonstrations, and devoted their efforts to recruiting prospective voters for Monday's big drive.

King said the civil rights movement, destined ultimately to reach throughout the entire state, will be concentrated Monday in Selma and the four neighboring counties.

Choice Of Peace Or Conflict Up To Hanoi

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States lashed Communist North Viet Nam Saturday with a 14,000-word "white paper" charging the Communist state with waging "concealed aggression" against the South on a massive and growing scale.

The report, charging violation of international agreements in defiance of the United Nations charter, was dispatched by the State Department to the U.N. Security Council for the information of all of its members, including the Soviet Union.

By this means the United States put before the council its accusation that the North Vietnamese attack on the South "is as real as that of an invading army."

It warned the United Nations as it warned the world at large, that the United States and South Viet Nam will fight back with whatever means they wish—including air strikes.

The United States said it had hoped that widening of the war might be avoided but that the Communist leaders in Hanoi met restraint on the U.S.-South Vietnamese side with greater violence. Therefore, it said, the United States and South Viet Nam decided air strikes against infiltration and supply bases in North Viet Nam were required for the defense of the South and they made that "limited response."

The white paper was published by the State Department. It had been in preparation for several weeks and represented an updating of a similar document issued in late 1961. The earlier one also was designed to document that the war in South Viet Nam is not just a native rebellion but a new kind of war planned, supplied and directed from outside the country.

The State Department paper said this is even now "poorly understood in most parts of the world" and not only peoples but governments are confused.

"In Viet Nam a totally new brand of aggression has been loosed against an independent people who want to make their own way in peace and freedom," the report declared.

"North Viet Nam's commitment to seize control of the South is no less total than was the commitment of the regime in (Communist) North Korea in 1950. But knowing the consequences of the latter's undisguised attack, the planners in Hanoi have tried desperately to conceal their hand."

"They have failed and their aggression is as real as that of an invading army."

From that beginning and on that basic indictment the white paper, with maps, photographs and stories of individual Red (Continued On Page Seven)

Cardinal Meyer Described As 'Very Sick Man'

CHICAGO (AP)—A hospital spokesman Saturday described Albert Cardinal Meyer as a "very sick man," but said an emergency throat operation performed earlier in the day had improved his condition.

The operation, a tracheotomy, was performed to aid his breathing nearly two days after the cardinal underwent brain surgery.

"His blood pressure, temperature and pulse rates are more satisfactory than they were prior to this surgical procedure."

In response to a question, the spokesman said doctors had not described the cardinal's condition as critical or noncritical. He did say, however, the cardinal was a "very sick man."

Earlier Saturday, a hospital statement on condition of the prelate said, "There have been significant changes in the cardinal's vital signs (pulse, respiration and blood pressure) of concern to the medical team attending him."

Cardinal Meyer, 61, Roman Catholic archbishop of Chicago and spiritual leader of some two million Catholics, underwent Thursday a 4 hour and 25-minute operation on the right side of his brain to relieve intracranial pressure, and doctors said that abnormal tissue the size of a walnut was removed from the brain.

The tracheotomy was performed Saturday by Dr. Herxert T. Nash, a Chicago ear, nose and throat specialist, a statement by the hospital said the second operation was completed satisfactorily, but no further report on Cardinal Meyer's condition would be made until after several hours of observation.

The cardinal's health has been a matter of concern since the first of this year. He first entered Mercy Hospital Jan. 6 suffering from nausea and abdominal pain, and after treatment for a gall bladder condition he was released Jan. 18.

On Feb. 17 he went back to Mercy Hospital for a checkup because of periodic acute headaches. A decision to operate to relieve pressure within his skull was made Wednesday, and the surgery followed.

Ill Fortune, Bad Weather Haunt Searchers For Legended Treasure

SALADO, Tex. (AP)—Thisly were just as far away as ever. The treasure hunters had spent a lonesome, isolated six months at the diggings. Then a week ago, a massive crowd of newsmen descended.

At times the operators greet the newsmen with open arms. At other times they ignore them.

The explorers say metal detectors similar to the mine detectors of World War II keep telling them they are close to the treasure.

A mystery cropped up at midweek when Les Guerra disappeared from public view.

He is the man who said he wandered through tunnels and saw the treasure, then spent months in a hospital. He said cave-ins blocked his path when he came back to get the gold.

But he is expected back. He is president of Guerra Enterprises, Inc., which launched the

West Gulf Coast Dockers Settle Dispute; S. Atlantic Still Out

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)

—Long-sought agreement was reached Saturday night when a 22-man longshoremen's negotiating team and the maritime industry came to terms on a new four-year contract in the strike-plagued western Gulf Coast area.

The breakthrough apparently signals the beginning of the end of a billion-dollar walkout that began Jan. 11 and tied up ports from Maine to Texas.

Earlier agreements had sent dockers back to work in all ports except those under the jurisdiction of Galveston and in the southern Atlantic district.

Saturday's action, however, does not mean an immediate end to the 49-day-old walkout in 11 ports from Lake Charles, La., to Brownsville, Tex.

The contract—which could pave the way toward an eventual guaranteed annual wage for dockers—is subject to approval by the main 110-man West Gulf District contract committee. The group has been on call for days at a local union hall.

In addition, the agreement must be approved by the rank and file of the 7,000-member union involved. No date has been set for that balloting.

Asst. Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds made the formal announcement of the agreement about 5:30 p.m. after long, bouts of negotiating.

Thomas W. Gleason, International Longshoremen's Association president, said the agreement gives the union minimum (Continued On Page 7)

GOP Senators Ponder Assignment Of Lodge To Make Viet Nam Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—Influential Republicans view with reservations President Johnson's designation of Henry Cabot Lodge to study the Viet Nam situation and recommend possible changes in U.S. action.

There was a feeling among GOP senators Saturday that if Johnson is hoping to bolster congressional support for his policies by the appointment of Lodge, former ambassador to Saigon, he is reaching in the wrong political direction.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., said that Republicans are the ones who are speaking out in support of the President and the assignment of Lodge, who was the 1960 GOP vice-presidential nominee, isn't needed to keep them in line.

"And I don't think anything Lodge recommends is going to soften the criticism of the administration's course that has been coming from Sens. Church, Morse, Gruening and some other Democrats," Morton said. He alluded to Sens. Frank Church, Idaho, Wayne Morse, Oregon, and Ernest Gruening, Alaska.

Morton said he found it "incongruous that the President needs anyone to coordinate what the government agencies have been saying, about Viet Nam." As Lodge outlined his task after a visit to the White House Friday, it is to search all information available in Washington to see if anything had been overlooked that could be done.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a separate interview that he has no objection if the President feels Lodge can make a contribution.

"I will be awaiting Lodge's recommendations with interest," Mundt said. "It is obvious that the administration can use some new ideas in Viet Nam."

Youth Follows Instructions, Saves Life Of Girl, 3, Overcome By Smoke

WATERBURY, Conn. (AP)—Terry Malloy, 17, a Waterbury high school student, stopped to watch a fire in an apartment house. Suddenly a policeman placed an unconscious little girl in his arms.

"Get into the back seat of the prowl car with her," said officer Eugene Falcons.

The girl, Angela White, about 3, had stopped breathing, the result of smoke inhalation. She had just been rescued by firemen.

Stretched out on the back seat of the prowl car, Angela was still as death.

"We're headed for St. Mary's Hospital, son," said Falcons, who was driving. "Know anything about mouth-to-mouth resuscitation?"

"No," said Malloy.

"Well, listen to me," said the policeman, giving instructions. At the hospital, Malloy clasped his hands excitedly when told the girl would live.

Later, talking with a newsman, Malloy said he was "glad I happened to be around to help."

Malloy, who is majoring in industrial arts at Croft High School, said that he had "read a little bit about mouth-to-mouth resuscitation" but had never tried it before.

The teen-ager, who works as a part-time car washer to help support his mother and five sisters and brothers, said: "The officer told me just what to do, how to hold her mouth and breathe, and I just did what I was told."

The girl was reported in fair condition Saturday.

Young Malloy and the policeman weren't the only heroes. There was also fireman Joe Pettinici.

Firemen, called to the blaze at 354 Long Hill Road on Saturday night, said he entered the smoke-filled apartment and brought out the unconscious child.

The girl's mother, Mrs. James White, had left the apartment momentarily to look for two of her children. The father was away at work. In the house at the time was Mrs. White's mother. She asked a neighbor to summon firemen.

The damage was confined to the apartment.

ALL-NEW FRIGIDAIRE CUSTOM IMPERIAL DISHMOBILE

The All-New Answer
To Dishwashing's
4 Greatest Problems!

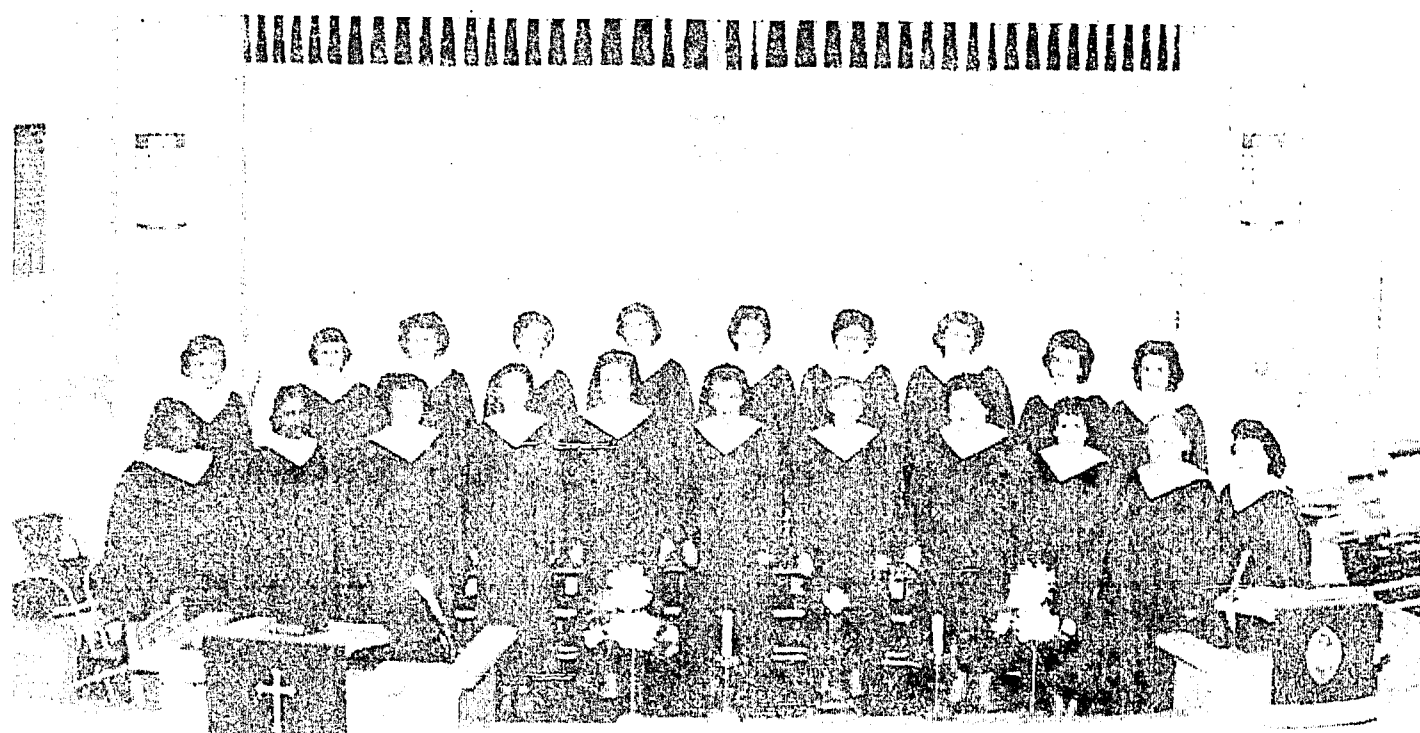

1. Ends rinsing before loading
2. Runs quietly
3. Washes pots and pans
4. Holds large, odd-shaped dishes

Here's a mobile dishwasher so all-new, so packed with improvements and advanced features that it practically obsoletes mechanical dishwashing as you've always known it! Great new push-button controls offer choice of 5 cycles including "Pots & Pans" that gives ordinarily tough loads an extra-hard scrubbing, and "Rinse & Hold" that lets you rinse now, wash later. Redesigned racks hold 12" plates, long-stemmed glassware, and odd-shaped items with ease. And four sound-reducing, built-in features (see back) achieve a new standard of quietness!

Mt. Sterling Woman Stricken Visiting In West

MT. STERLING — Word has been received here of the serious illness of a Mt. Sterling woman, Mrs. Wallace Taylor, presently vacationing in Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor have been spending the past several months with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Blake at Phoenix, Arizona. Recently Mrs. Taylor went to Fresno, California to visit a sister, Mrs. Mabel Bagby. She became ill there, entered a Fresno hospital and is reported in critical condition. Mrs. Blake and Mrs. Taylor are at her bedside.

Grass Fire
The Mt. Sterling firemen were called to extinguish a grass fire north of the grade school, in the northwest part of town Monday afternoon.

Rev. and Mrs. Glenn Manis of the local Methodist church attended the luncheon meeting of the Sub-District ministers held Feb. 22nd at the Beards-town Methodist church. Dr. and Mrs. Russell Coulter of Jacksonville, discussed family living in Methodist parsonages.

Mrs. Wilfert Wolfmeyer is a surgical patient in Blessing hospital at Quincy. She is reported in satisfactory condition.

HOSPITAL DRIVE
NETS $3,526.34

WHITE HALL — The seventh annual White Hall Hospital Drive was completed recently and shows a total of $3,526.34. From these receipts, the annual payment of $2,500.00 on the principal of the hospital's outstanding obligation has been met, leaving a balance of $32,000. The remainder of the funds from the drive will be used to pay for new equipment, for repairs of any old equipment that is necessary, and for any necessary expenditures that are not normal operating expenses.

The hospital directors are grateful to all who took part in the drive and those who made donations, also to the Greene County Medical Society for the sum of $750.00. The medical staff of the hospital now has under advisement the purchase of new equipment with this money. The directors are also grateful to William North of New Jersey, for endorsing his Greene County Development notes over to the White Hall Hospital.

At the suggestion of Hospital Auxiliary members, the drive for funds in 1965, of which they are in charge, will be held in October, rather than early December, so as not to conflict with workers in the Christmas rush and with the thought that contributions may be more generous at that time.

Race Relations Topic Before Concord WSCS

CONCORD — The Concord Methodist Church WSCS met February 18th at the home of Mrs. Robert Kircher. The president Mrs. Tom Crawford, presided and read an article, "A Bi-local Viewpoint," and a prayer.

The Combined program on race relations, "What Would You Do?" was presented by the leaders, Mrs. Charles Elliott and Mrs. Robert Nickel. The sending of greeting cards to the sick and shut-ins was discussed and reports were heard from the visiting teams. Mrs. Carl Robison reported she had completed the series of children's missionary meetings. The World Day of Prayer service will be at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, March 5th at the Concord Christian Church.

The society decided to participate in the clothing for overseas drive in May. Members are to bring Top Value and S&H Green Stamps to the next meeting to help equip the kitchen in the new Methodist Office Building. The president announced that the Rev. Robert Pitsch and his family would be guests at Family Night at the church on March 21st.

Refreshments were served after the meeting. The hostesses were Mrs. Robert Kircher, Mrs.

GREENFIELD CLUB PLANS TO TOUR LOCAL INDUSTRIES

GREENFIELD — The Greenfield Woman's club held its regular monthly meeting in the Baptist Church annex Wednesday, Feb. 10. Mrs. Sanford Hutchison, American Citizenship chairman, gave some pertinent information about the flag and an appropriate poem which was followed by the pledge of allegiance to our flag.

Instead of a March meeting, a tour of several Jacksonville industries has been arranged for March 10. The group will meet at the Baptist church.

The club voted to sponsor the Blood Bank Canteen on Thursday, April 30. Contact will be made with the local schools concerning the awarding of a summer scholarship.

A collection of pennies was taken which will be put in the Pennies for Art Fund. This fund provides $50 for scholarships to the Art Institute in Chicago for winners of the seventh and eighth grade art contest, and pictures of equal value for downstate winners.

The International Relations chairman, Mrs. Maurice Melvin, introduced Miss Wilhelmina Heber who related experiences and showed slides of ports while on a sea safari cruise where stops had been made which included the east coast of Africa, and flights inland to such well-known places as Johannesburg, Victoria Falls, Pretoria, Druger National Park, Nairobi, Royal Nairobi National Park, Treetops Hotel, Suez, Cairo, Aden and Taormena.

Mrs. James McKenzie, hostess chairman and her committee, Mrs. James Ford, Mrs. Austin Joyce, and Mrs. Leo Price served cookies, candies, nuts, coffee and tea from a Valentine decorated table.

Henry Kircher and Mrs. Floyd Goodpasture. Attending were: Mrs. Chester Brockhouse, Mrs. Tom Crawford, Mrs. Charles Elliott, Mrs. Robert Goodpasture, Mrs. L. C. Hess, Mrs. Paul Hess, Mrs. Carl Hoots, Mrs. Henry Kircher, Mrs. Robert Kircher, Mrs. Robert Nickel, Mrs. John Rayborn, Mrs. Carl Robison, Mrs. Robert Schall, Mrs. Tillie Schone, Mrs. Walter Standley, Mrs. Edna Strickler, Mrs. Virgil Wegehoff, Mrs. Arthur Yeck, Mrs. Henry Zulauf, Mrs. William Kenney and Keith Kircher.

Swimming Pool Drive Underway

ASHLAND — A drive to raise money for the construction of a swimming pool in Ashland started last Saturday, and will extend through Tuesday, March 2. The drive is being carried out within a 10-day period as it is felt that everyone within the Ashland community who is interested in seeing the construction of a public swimming pool, will respond within that time. A successful drive would enable the pool to be in use this summer.

The swimming pool fund drive is a project of "Christmas 365" a not-for-profit corporation that was incorporated under the laws of the State of Illinois in December 1964. "Christmas 365" was established to serve as a means for accepting and distributing money, property or goods for needs within the Ashland community.

All checks should be payable to "Christmas 365" (Swimming Pool Fund). All money will be refunded if for any reason the pool is not constructed.

The idea behind the financial drive is to have as many contributors as possible from the Ashland community—each to give according to his means; the swimming pool will be constructed this summer if the drive is successful; the pool will be the property of the Village of Ashland; preliminary plans call for construction of a 35x75 foot pool, the minimum A.A.U. Junior Olympic size pool. A separate "kiddie" pool approximately 25 feet in diameter would be constructed, along with a bath house. The location being considered is just south of the old swimming pool. No plans have been finalized.

A public meeting will be held at the end of the fund drive.

EBENEZER 4-H CLUB ON RADIO PROGRAM

Members of the Ebenezer 4-H club presented a program, "History of the Flag," on radio station W.L.D.S. recently. After the broadcast, the club toured the House of Fabrics.

A regular club meeting was held at the home of Mary Jo Flynn. Activity talks on the subject of first aid were given by Diane Jones, Karen Tomhave, Karen McGinnis, Mary Jane Henderson, Mary Ellen McKean, Kerry Flynn and Ann Rigg.

A sewing talk was given by Rose Marie Angelo, a music talk by Ann Rigg and a demonstration on salad making was given by Barbara Hess.

The club attended a knitting class Feb. 13. The next meeting will be held at 7 p.m. March 10 at the home of Kerry Flynn.

New Berlin Student Merit Semi-Finalist

NEW BERLIN — Lynn Coe, a senior student at New Berlin High school, has received a Certificate of Merit from the National Merit Scholarship program in recognition of his high performance. This is a distinction won by approximately 14,000 students — about one half of one per cent of the secondary school seniors in the Nation.

As a recipient of a Certificate of Merit, Lynn advances from the semi-finalist to the finalist stage of the Merit Program. It is from the finalist group that all Merit Scholars for 1965 will be selected. Approximately 1600 finalists will be offered Merit Scholarships in the current competition. Public announcement of Merit Winners will be made about April 28.

Lynn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Coe, R. 8, Springfield.

Razed Building Boasted Long, Eventful History

MEREDOSIA — A 100-year-old building, which has been at the same location since 1872, has been purchased and moved from the south part of Meredosia.

It was built on the lot where the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McDannald now stands and where they have lived for the past 23 years.

This building was once used for a public school. Longtime residents remember that Walter (Curly) Hyde and George (Dick) Hyde attended school in this building.

Lutheran church services were held in this school house before it was moved to the north part of the block, where it was remodeled into a church.

A steeple was added and appointments such as altar, high pulpit, pews, etc., were installed. Services were held there until 1912, when a kitchen was added and it became the parish house. On the last date mentioned the new church, known as St. John's Lutheran church, was ready for occupancy and is still in use.

The parish house was razed, January 13. All unusable debris was burned with the local fire engine and equipment, standing by for use if necessary. A larger, modern building, with a full basement, will be erected on the site.

One of the most frequent questions asked by citizens thus far during my campaign has been how I stand in regard to the location and construction of the new city hall and municipal building.

I am very much in favor of the project and have been since its beginning two years ago. I do not, however, wish to rush into decisions that would not be beneficial to the taxpayers.

The members of the commission for the new municipal building project are able, dependable people with a thankless job. If given due time for consideration, I believe they will come to the council with an amicable solution in the best interests of all our citizens.

It seems to me the best solution to the problem will be the one which does the most for the people at the least amount of taxation.

It has always been my position that the present site of the city hall, on West Douglas, would be the most economical choice of location for the proposed new building.

The commission's obligation, of course, will be to evaluate the feasibility of this solution and make its recommendations to the council. The ultimate decision will be with the city council.

Thank you,
Fred

IT'S EASIER TO PAY TAXES WHEN YOU PAY-BY-CHECK!

(And you'll probably save money, too.)

We don't claim that people who pay-by-check enjoy paying taxes, but we know they find it easier to prepare their tax returns. People who pay-by-cash have to search for dozens of bills, receipts and assorted pieces of paper.

It's easy to overlook deductions and pay extra taxes. People who pay-by-check just review their cancelled checks or the stubs in their check-book. If you still pay-by-cash, see the people at Elliott State Bank.

Elliott's Budget Checking Account costs just 10 cents per check. Any amount will open your account and there's no minimum balance requirement. Elliott's Regular Checking Account is also very popular—choose the one which suits you best.

The latter told DeShleria that his wife was not there, that she had the habit of taking off and remaining away for consider- able intervals. Then she would return home and remain until the next time she took off. Moore in his statement indi- cated that he could not sleep after the appearance of the of- ficer at his place. He then decided to go to the home of his sister, Mrs. Martha McElroy in the Godfrey vicinity, and went there early the following morn- ing and told her and his brother-in-law, Seldon McElroy, what had occurred. Another re- lative in Kentucky was notified by telephone. Turns Himself In Seldon McElroy left the house to get groceries and upon his return stated that he had talked to a friend, a state police offi- cer, and the latter had advised that Moore give himself up to the authorities. This subsequently was done, and Moore accompanied State Troopers Sloke Blackorby, Rob- ert Drew and Deputy Sheriff DeShleria to the locality where he had sunk his wife's body in the Piasa Creek. The body was recovered and Moore brought to the jail in Jerseyville where he was charged with murder. The indictment and subsequent pro- ceedings occupied the period from around November 20, 1960, until his sentencing June 19, 1961. Reither On Beardstown

By Virgil Reither
BEARDSTOWN — Montgomery Ward and Company which closed its large retail store here several years ago, is planning to open a catalog store here in the near future. The company is now advertising for a man-wife team to operate the business.

Robert Patterson, former employee of the McHaley and Barney auto shop here, is now teaming with Jerry Seward in the operation of a new body shop at 9th and Grand Avenue.

Following the recent death of Glenn Davis his widow decided to close out their flower shop on 4th street and the brick building in which the store was operated is now for sale.

While formal announcement is being withheld, land has been purchased on Grand Avenue as a location for a new rest home here. It is said plans call for all new construction of one of the most modern establishments of its kind in this area.

Among the interesting recollections of Robert Buck, industrial committee chairman here, on the story of getting a 5 million dollar industry to locate here, is his contention that Beardstown's chances began to grow when the Chamber of Commerce entertained a group of industrialists from Honduras. This was done at the suggestion of the State Board of Economic Development. Buck says that this "started things in our favor" because the board members got a look at Beardstown and "went to bat." The result: Oscar Mayer packing company will bring a million dollar annual payroll here.

Farmers in the Sangamon Valley area near here say that marijuana grows along the side of the roadways between Beardstown and Brick School and has to be eradicated regularly.

Beardstown postal workers are pleased about a recent occurrence at the local office; they have returned to the sender a parcel for which the only identifying mark was "From Uncle Joy and Joyce." The package was returned to Beardstown by the postmaster at Sacramento, Cal., where it arrived without an address and only a Beardstown postmark to indicate its origin. Local postal workers finally found the Joe-Joyce couple to be Joe and Joyce Maskell.

While the main topic of exultant conversation in Beardstown these days has to do with the selection of this city as a site for a five million dollar plant of the Oscar Mayer company, other local firms continue with their "knitting" at their best capacity. The Illinois Glove Company, Trinity Steel and Bohn Aluminum, all virtually "new" industries, are going strong.

Bohn's manager says that the plant capacity, virtually doubled this past summer, still hasn't reached its limit and that a bit more expansion will occur this coming summer. At Trinity barge loads of steel continue to be shipped on the Illinois river and unloaded here for use in Beardstown and other Trinity plants, and everybody is working full time at Illinois Glove. One hundred and four students at Beardstown High School are taking part in a trial honor study hall program. The students in this program were selected from the Student Council, honor roll, National Honor Society, and from names recommended by the faculty. This list was then approved by Mr. C. Sullivan, the principal of the high school. The students were chosen because they indicated by their actions that they were responsible students able to work in an unsupervised situation.

FRIENDSHIP CIRCLE CONDUCTS MEETING AT MEREDOSIA HOME

MEREDOSIA — The Friendship Circle met Feb. 6 at the home of Mrs. Gilbert Steinberg. Mrs. John Miller presented the lesson and Mrs. Kenneth Nunn had opening devotions.

The business meeting was opened by the circle leader, Mrs. Marvin Gerecke. During the meeting it was announced that no definite plans had been made for the State Hospital party. Tentative plans were for an afternoon party in March. Programs were distributed for the World Day of Prayer service.

The hostesses for March are Mrs. John Miller and Mrs. Ted Dickman, with Mrs. Maurice Kunzeman as leader.

Meredosia Notes
Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hinners, Phil and Tina Faye entertained at a chicken dinner Sunday evening. The occasion was the celebration of two birthdays, those of Mrs. Robert Lansink, whose birthday was Thursday, February 25 and Mrs. John Nortrup, whose birthday is March 1. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Elton Hinners, Mrs. Bill Thiele, Robert Lansink, and John Nortrup.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Kunzeman, Joe, Nancy, and Sarah weekendend in Decatur at the home of the former's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Kunzeman, Rex, Karl, and Joy.

CHAMBERSBURG MEN ENTERTAIN GUESTS AT OYSTER SUPPER

MEREDOSIA — The Men's Sunday School Class of the Chambersburg Christian church entertained members of the Willing Workers Sunday School class February 15 at an oyster supper in the church basement. The decor was in keeping with Valentine's Day. Each woman attending received a box of chocolates. Thirty-five persons were in attendance.

Meredosia Locals
Word has been received that Mrs. Mary Starks remains critically ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Hoffman at Lepanto, Ark.

Mrs. Adeline Allen has received word that Mr. and Mrs. Donald Allen of Mt. Sterling are the parents of a daughter, born Feb. 21 at Memorial hospital, Springfield. Hope Loraine tipped the scales at five pounds and fourteen ounces. Mrs. Allen is the former Sandra Chapman of Mt. Sterling.

Mrs. Rena Allen of East Alton is the paternal great-grandmother and Mr. and Mrs. John Chapman of Mt. Sterling are the maternal grandparents.

Don Atkins Is Speaker Before Pilot Club

Donald K. Atkins, executive secretary of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce was guest speaker at the Feb. 17 dinner meeting of the Pilot Club at the Dunlap Motor Inn.

The Chamber of Commerce is one of fifty-two organizations in Jacksonville which contributes to the betterment of this community. Each, in its own way, strives for the improvement of Jacksonville and to help its citizens. The program was planned by the public relations committee, Mrs. Sarah Hughett, chairman, Miss Margaret Riley and Mrs. Marion Thorn.

Invocation was offered by Mrs. C. Y. Rowe, following with the pledge of allegiance.

Mrs. Gordon Wolgamott, Mrs. Jack Myers and Mrs. Donald Atkins were guests.

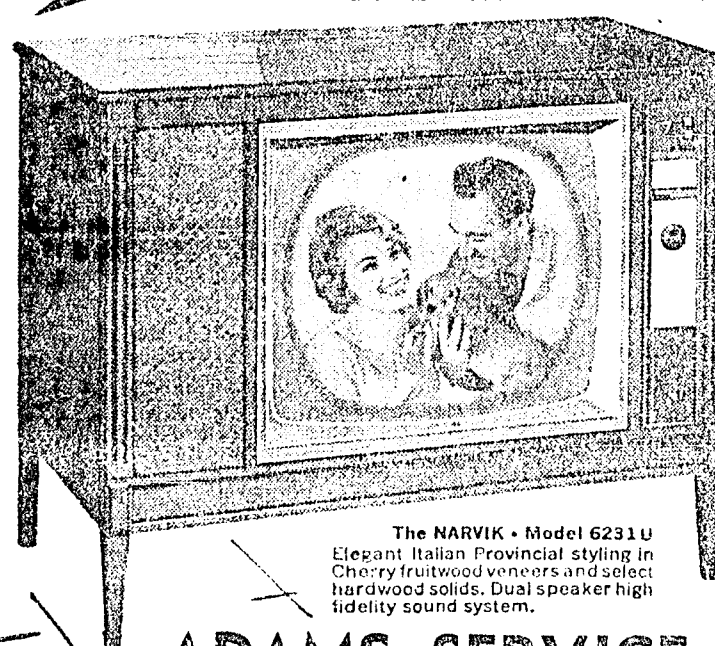

New Headquarters
A long cherished dream of all Pilots has been a permanent Headquarters home. Twenty-five years ago Pilot International Headquarters was a meagerly furnished one room office. Miss Wilma Richardson, executive director, transacted all the business of the growing organization.

The one room office has long since expanded into several rented offices. Still more room is needed. Recently Pilot International was able to purchase a lovely six columned colonial brick house on a shaded street in Macon, Georgia, where Pilot originated. This house is more than two and a half times the size of the present offices. The remodeling of the new accommodations is nearing completion and will be dedicated in May.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rallied vigorously last week but ended the month of February from registering a decline, which is the usual thing in stock market history.

In the four-day trading week, shortened by Washington's birthday, the market made its best gain since the week ended Jan. 16, based on The Associated Press average.

Among the 1,531 issues traded last week, gainers exceeded losers by the wide margin of 839 to 472.

Hopes of an eventual settlement of the Viet Nam crisis rather than escalation of the struggle into a major conflict were a big psychological factor in Wall Street.

Other encouraging items were: Weekly steel production was the highest on record. Officials of the Big Three auto companies predicted a nine-million car sales year as against 8.1 million last year. Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon informed the nation that under-withholding of income taxes will amount probably to some $400 to $500 million instead of the $1 billion-plus some had expected, thus trimming the amount of cash payments under-held taxpayers will have to dig up this spring.

In addition, the cause of a labor peace seemed enhanced by a request from George Meany, head of the AFL-CIO, that the steel strike deadline be extended beyond May 1.

The Dow Jones industrial average last week rose 17.87 to 903.48. The Dow closed above 900 for the first time since Feb. 9, just before the crisis began to heat up in Viet Nam.

Volume for the shortened week was 25,512,735 shares compared with 27,988,210 for the full five-day trading week previous. For the month of February, the Dow industrials emerged with a slight gain of .62 instead of a loss, which had been generally expected.

This week brings another big list of tax-exempt municipal bonds to the market. Price declines accompanied the heavy offerings in the past two weeks. The markets for corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly quiet the past week.

On the New York Stock Exchange corporate bond volume was down slightly to $57,640,000 par value from $56,333,000 the previous week.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (AP)—The livestock market was firm on nearly all classes this week with hogs posting their best gain on Friday when receipts were curtailed somewhat by many snow-blocked roads throughout the Midwest.

Slaughter steers were steady to 50 cents higher than a week ago as the supply both here and at the 12 major markets declined. With the extreme gain on choice and prime grades, the latter topped at $26.25 on two days, the highest price in more than a month.

Mixed high choice and prime grades sold up to $26 and average choice to $25. Heifers brought $22.50 for choice grade to $24.50 for mixed high choice and prime.

The hog market was 50-75 cents higher with more than a hundred head bringing the week's top of $18.50, up 25 cents from the peak last week. A year ago the comparable weights of mixed No. 1 and 2 grades went at $16.

In the sheep market, wooled slaughter lambs sold up to $25.75, highest for that class since 1958.

After the service, Malcolm's coffin was borne in a heavily guarded cortege to nearby Westchester County. There it was buried in Forest Hill Cemetery, Hartsdale, 150 yards from the grave of James Powell, a 15-year-old Negro youth whose death touched off last summer's Harlem riots.

The boy was shot by an out-duty policeman who said the youth approached him with a knife.

GOP SENATORS PONDER LODGE'S ASSIGNMENT

Lodge said he fully supports Johnson's actions, specifically including punitive attacks on North Viet Nam. He said he believes such attacks will persuade the Communists that it is not profitable to infiltrate South Viet Nam.

There was a feeling among some of the Democrats that Johnson was bypassing them because they weren't fully in accord with everything he had done in Viet Nam.

They made no complaints about it, but Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee have had no recent briefings on the situation.

On the other hand, Johnson has called Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois to the White House and has phoned him often. Dirksen has been a strong public supporter of Johnson's actions in Viet Nam but Mansfield and Fulbright have remained relatively silent.

fighters in the South, was designed to build up convincing and massive evidence of North Vietnamese control of the war with the direct support of Communist China and some help from the Soviet Union and other Communist countries.

The report said that of more than 4,400 Red guerrilla fighters of the Viet Cong known to have entered the South in the first eight months of 1964 about 75 per cent are natives of the North. In earlier years the bulk of troops infiltrated into the South were described as southerners who had been trained in the North.

This asserted switch in the source of manpower was cited in an attempt to show that the military forces of the North are becoming much more deeply involved in southern fighting.

The figures cited also are meant to reflect Communist determination to conquer the South.

The main force of the Viet Cong was described as composed of 50 battalions, a 50 per cent increase over 1961, with an estimated 139 companies of troops. And the hard-core guerrilla strength — the top fighting forces of the Reds — was estimated at 35,000 men now as compared with 20,000 three years ago.

WEST GULF COAST DOCK WORKERS SETTLE DISPUTE

gang-size protection against automation and a seniority clause to protect older men and make room for new men.

He said the new contract would help the union so that by the end of four years "we'll be able to work for a guaranteed annual wage."

If approved, the new agreement will require management to have at least 16 men in a gang for general cargo and 10 for bagged cargo. It also calls for a 30-cent-an-hour raise in wages and in fringe benefits spread over a four-year period.

Gleason said the Galveston contract would serve as a pattern for agreement in the southern Atlantic district, where bargaining is to begin again at 10 a.m. Monday at Miami, Fla.

Meanwhile, further talks will get under way at Galveston on Sunday to iron out contracts with smaller unions such as the clerks and checkers and the cotton headers. Little trouble is expected in these sessions, Gleason said.

The 30-cent raise will be broken into a 38-cent increase in actual hourly wages, to be staggered over the four-year period. Present hourly wages for deep-sea dockers in this district is $3.24 an hour.

Ralph A. Massey, president of the West Gulf and South Atlantic ILA districts, said the longshoremen might be able to go back to work "the first of next week."

TWO CARS DAMAGED

Two cars were damaged Saturday morning at the intersection of South Church and Marion streets.

City police reported that a southbound car on South Church driven by Samuel G. Connet of 777 South West street was struck by a car operated by Frances J. Brooks of 525 Henry, which was southbound on South Church attempting a right turn onto Marion.

Recover Bodies Of 4 Killed In Plane Crash

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — The bodies of Dr. James G. Rice and his four-year-old son, David, were recovered Saturday from the icy waters of a lake in Unstead State Park near here.

Also recovered was the single-engine airplane in which Dr. Rice, his wife and three children crashed Thursday night.

The bodies of Mrs. Rice and the couple's two-year-old son James, were found some hours after the crash.

Still missing was the couple's six-year-old son Robert. Rescuers called off the search for the boy at nightfall, but plan to begin dragging the lake bottom again Sunday.

Dr. Rice is a nephew of Wilfrid Rice, Morgan County Superintendent of Schools; Mrs. Leland Werries of Chapin; Mrs. William Kirkwood of Springfield; Mrs. Gilbert Hegner of Beardstown; and Phillip Rice of Waterman, a former area resident.

Dr. Rice's body was recovered about 30 feet from the southwest shore of the lake and the boy was found about 50 feet from the southwest shore.

Neither body bore traces of external injuries, rescue workers said. Dr. Rice's shoes were missing.

The water-filled aircraft was recovered late in the day by Navy frogmen working under the direction of the Federal Aviation Agency.

Damage to the plane was light. The tail section, however, had been pulled from the fuselage during recovery.

Other evident damage was confined to the nose section of the aircraft. The plane's clock had stopped at 11:09, about 10 minutes after the tower at the Raleigh-Durham airport reported last radio contact with it.

Rescuers speculated that the Rice family escaped injury in the crash landing and that about 10 minutes elapsed before the plane began filling with water.

The frogmen said indications were that Rice may have attempted to swim to shore with two of the children and that his wife carried one of the children to shallow water, then returned to assist her husband.

Both were reportedly good swimmers.

FAA official G. E. Lowe said the cause of the crash would not be known for several weeks.

An investigation Saturday revealed about 2½ gallons of water and gasoline in the airplane's fuel tanks. A mechanic who withdrew the mixture said there was only "about a teaspoonful" of gasoline in the tank.

Dr. Rice had radioed the Raleigh-Durham airport tower that he was running out of fuel and was given instructions for landing.

The family was returning from Daytona Beach, Fla., to their home in Richmond, Va., when the crash occurred.

Versatile Sardine Boon To Lenten Recipe Search

As the Lenten Season approaches housewives will be thinking of meatless, but tasty and nutritious foods. Just-home-from school or after-the-ball-game appetites literally cry for hearty nourishment to taste-fully restore spent energy.

Sardines are economical, always available and easy to prepare into delicious dishes. Below are three recipes and their methods for preparation:

Sardine Fritters
2 frankfurter rolls
1 can (3 3/4 oz.) Norway sardines
1 small tomato, sliced, seasoning to taste

METHOD: Split and toast the frankfurter rolls. Spread one side lightly with mayonnaise and cover with tomato slices. Season to taste. Top with 5 or 6 whole, drained Norway sardines. Serve with tiny sweet gherkins and fresh carrot sticks for a truly healthful luncheon.

Sardine Rice Croquettes

An imaginative new hot dish created by one of the country's foremost executive chefs combines well cooked rice and tiny and tangy sardines from the cold, mineral rich fjords of Norway. A savory meat substitute, this dish will take the dullness out of Lenten menus.

Ingredients
1 (3 3/4 oz.) can of Norway sardines
2 cups of well cooked rice
1 whole egg - well beaten
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
1 tablespoon catsup, salt and pepper, to taste
Drain the olive oil from the Norway sardines and mash the sardines. Blend sardines with rice and all the above ingredi-

Ingredients
2 (3 3/4 oz. ea.) cans Norway sardines

4 small filets of lemon sole

8 jumbo shrimp

8 deep sea scallops

2 tomatoes, halved

4 mushroom heads

sections of lemon (garnish)

METHOD: Open and drain the Norway sardines. Roll the sardines, filets of sole, shrimp, scallops and tomato halves in bread crumbs. Add the mushroom heads. Sprinkle all with olive oil and broil until golden brown. Dress on a serving platter or in a ramekin with the sardines between two tomato halves at each end, filets in the center covered with the shrimp and scallops. Top the tomato halves with the broiled mushroom heads. Sprinkle with butter over all and garnish with parsley bouquets and lemon sections. Serve with boiled potatoes, and mayonnaise or tartar sauce on the side. Yield: 4 generous servings.

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Turner

Turner and Thompson

WINCHESTER — Of interest in this area is the February twentieth wedding ceremony at West Frankfort, Ill. when Miss Janet Faye Thompson became the bride of James Stanley Turner of Winchester. The bride is the daughter of the Charles Thompkins of West Frankfort and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Turner of Winchester.

The Reverend Cecil Walker officiated for the evening service at the Harmony Freewill Baptist church in West Frankfort. White bows and greenery adorned the candlelight altar. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor length gown of white organza over taffeta fashioned entrain. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a lace and pearl base. She carried a white Bible overlaid with white carnations.

Jaye Rachelle Thompson, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore white lace over turquoise. Miss Kay Wolfe of West Frankfort was maid of honor and wore pink nylon with a chiffon cape. Her flowers were white carnations.

Elmer Sutton, Jr., Winchester, was best man. The bride's mother wore blue and the groom's mother was also in blue. Both wore white carnation corsages.

At the reception held at the church the following friends assisted, Mrs. Harley Johnson, Mrs. Arthur Evans, Mrs. Jene Stone, Mrs. Luther Wollard, Mrs. Harne Miller, Mrs. William Blackburn and Mrs. Robert Blackburn.

The newlyweds are making their home at 508 West Monroe street, Springfield, since returning from a short trip. The bride graduated from West Frankfort High School and is employed in the Secretary of State's Office in Springfield. The groom, a Winchester High School graduate, attended Western Illinois University, served two years in military service with the 101st Airborne Division, Fort Campbell, Kentucky and is presently attending David Rankin School in St. Louis.

Williams and Hart

Miss Carol Jean Hart and James L. Williams were united in marriage in an afternoon ceremony Sunday, February fourteenth, at the Grace Methodist church in this city. White glads and pompom mums and red mums adorned the church altar where the pastor, Dr. Frank Nestler received the vows.

Mrs. Maureen Anders was at the organ and Miss Heidi Ladny sang. Linda and Trudy Brookhouse, cousins of the bride, lighted tapers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Caryl E. Hart, 15 Sunnydale in this city and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Williams of Springfield.

The bride was attended by Miss Betty Ratliff of Springfield and the best man was Richard L. Williams of Alexander. Terry Methe, Archie Scott and Craig Farr seated guests.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of white handclipped imported lace fashioned with a tiered skirt falling entrain and adorned with sequins and seed pearls. Her silk illusion veil fell from a double crown of crystal and pearls. She carried a lace covered Bible with a shower of pink roses.

Miss Ratliff wore rose colored velvet, floor length, a matching bow headress with nose veil and carried a colonial bouquet of red and white carnations.

The bride's mother wore a beige brocade and chiffon costume with matching accessories and the groom's mother was in royal blue with blue and white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white roses.

A reception was held at the Masonic temple where the following friends assisted, Miss Mary Williams, Miss Barbara Ivey, Miss Susie Freitag, Miss Kay Barley, Miss Diana Kerns, Miss Betty Diehl, Miss Carol Lewis, Miss Mary Lockard, Miss Gloria Nash, Miss Sue Wilson, Miss Mary Hardwick and Mrs. Betty Thompson.

Mrs. Williams graduated from Jacksonville High School and is presently attending Illinois Business College in Springfield. The groom, a graduate of Springfield High School, received his degree in architectural drafting and design at Southern Illinois University. He does carpenter work in Springfield.

Guests attended the ceremony from this area, Chatham, Chapin, Roodhouse, Woodson, Greenview, Chillicothe, Virginia, Franklin, Alexander, Peoria, Danville, Chicago, Monmouth and Ashland, Ill., St. Louis, Mo. and Fairfield, Iowa.

Jacksonville is again the strong choice in its own regional this year, probably one of the weaker in the state, but the Crimsos could well rate the same in most regionals in the state.

Coach Rich Jones has welded the high-flying Crimsos into a precision hardcourt outfit that has been drawing statewide raves all year.

Jacksonville, who enters the regional Tuesday night against ISD with a 20-4 record, has been in both wire service state prep polls most of the year and has been in the top ten frequently in both.

In Jones' first year at the helm, after moving up from the sophomore job, the Crimsos registered a 20-6 mark, winning the regional before losing in the sectional finals to Springfield Lanhier.

With three full-time starters back from that outfit and two others with plenty of experience, the Crimsos have included in their 20 victories two tournament titles.

Jacksonville swept through the 16-team Carbondale Tournament in December in championship fashion, in a field including some of the better teams in Southern Illinois.

Later in January Jacksonville took its own four-team tournament title, in a weaker field.

Two of those four losses have been to strong Decatur Elsenhower, both by a single point, once in overtime, to whom the Crimsos lost the Capital Conference championship. Other losses have been to Springfield and Decatur MacArthur, who JHS later defeated handily.

Not only does Virginia hold the second-best record in the tournament, but the Redbirds can match any outfit in the area in size and scoring punch.

The Redbirds took their hardest-fought win of the year Friday night, against only three losses. Virginia breezed through most of the year with one of the better records in Central Illinois, only to lose two of their last three.

Viriden topped Virginia in the second round of the Waverly Tournament, 67-63, and again two weeks ago, 70-59. PMSC foe Triopia reversed an earlier defeat by whipping the Redbirds two weeks ago, 62-59, for the conference title.

Virginia can put a front line on the floor that reads 6-7, 6-4 and 6-3, plus a pair of scrappy, good-shooting guards to go with them.

Heading the Virginia club in scoring and rebounding is 6-7 Wood Gebhardt. The senior center is averaging around 17 per game, and has picked off rebounds at a rate of about 15 each game.

Right behind Gebhardt is 5-10 guard Rick Smith, an all-state selection in football at wing.

Welch and Steve Tavender. In addition to packing some impressive individual statistics, Jacksonville sports some team figures that are more than just commendable.

As a team JHS has hit the nets at blazing .491% from the floor through 22 games. From the foul line the Crimsos connected on .605%, after getting off to a slow start from 15 feet.

Jacksonville has outrebounded opponents offensively, 273-192, and defensively, 417-299, again through only 22 games.

back. Smith is averaging near the 16 mark, while two others are averaging in double figures.

Rounding out the balanced Virginia scoring line is 6-3 forward Steve Larsen, 13 a game, and 5-8 Reg Brunk around 11. Fifth starter Phil Dillard, 5-11, is averaging about eight and sixth-man Bill Middleton, 6-4, about seven. Brunk, Larsen and Middleton are all juniors.

Gebhardt, until the last two weeks of the season, was connecting at a blazing 62% clip from the floor, falling down slightly in the final three games.

As a team the Redbirds scored during the year at a hot average near 70 points per game, holding their opponents to about 58 an outing.

Besides Gebhardt's hot floor average, three other starters were hitting at near 50% on the year not counting the final three contests.

The 20-3 mark Virginia brings into the regional against Waverly represents the best record a Redbird outfit has managed in several years at the Cass County school.

Coach Monty Nahren, in his second campaign at the reins, steered Virginia to a respectable 14-8 mark in his first year.

Virginia was third rated in the field behind the host Crimsos and New Berlin.

Herman Prince	5-8	140	G	Jr.	20	21
John Isaacs	5-8	145	G	Jr.	14	15

The second-rated New Berlin Pretzels bring the top record in the area into the regional, but are again hampered by playing a much weaker schedule than the Crimsos.

First round opponent for the Pretzels of coach Kevin Moore are the Routt Rockets, one of the two teams to gain an advantage over New Berlin during the year. Routt upset New Berlin, 44-42, in the second round of the Waverly tourney. The other loss came at the hands of strong Lincolnwood, 67-61, last week.

The Pretzels have several fine college prospects and a top junior in forward Tom Muench. Muench, at 6-1, is a top scorer and playmaker, but the Pretzels are far from a one-man team.

Top scorer average wise is 6-3 Alan Brown, 16 per game, followed by Muench with 15 per game and 6-2 John Frank, 13 a game.

Brown has been contacted by Memphis State, and Frank by Duke and Bradley.

Top rebounders for the Pretzels are Brown and 6-3 Dale Emerson, both averaging about 14 per game. Fifth starter is guard Dave Garrison, who along with Emerson is averaging about nine per game.

The Franklin Flashes faltered slightly over last year's outfit, but still bring a respectable 15-8 record into the regional against Winchester.

Following a triumph over Greenfield Friday night Franklin has presented first-year coach Galen Hensen with a 15-8 record. Last year the Flashes were 16-7.

Rebounding is perhaps the tall Flashes' top asset this campaign. They boast a front line with three players averaging in double figures on rebounds.

Bill Forbes, a 6-2 senior center, is the top scorer on the year, averaging 16 per game on the season, followed by guard Bill Gordon's 15 per outing average. A third starter, 6-1 Dana Caldwell, is also in double figures with 11 per game.

The three top scorers are all returning letterman from a year ago. Forbes, Caldwell and 6-3 John Ebrey are the three averaging in double figures off the boards.

The team is shooting only a mediocre 39% from the field on the season, and 54% from the foul stripe.

Steve Timmons	6-1	175	So.	C	44	45

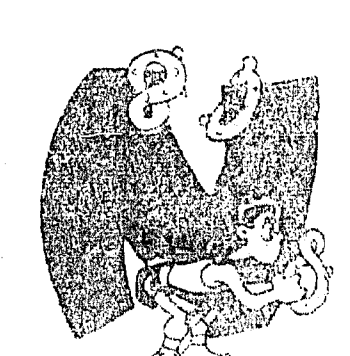

Coach Bob Price's Waverly Scotties showed a vast improvement in one year's time this season, and they could have had an even better record but for two unlucky draws in tournaments.

The Scotties perhaps had another bad break in the regional, drawing Virginia, a team that whipped Waverly only last Friday night.

Waverly finished the season at 9-11, but rang up an impressive 7-3 mark in the tough MSM conference, good for a third place tie. Last year at this time the Scotties were 5-18 and 4-6 in the conference.

Not the least of the reasons pointing to the improved Waverly campaign was 5-11 guard-forward Chuck Ross, one of the top scorers in the area. Ross has averaged 17 per game over the year, and the pumping-jack senior was also top rebounder.

Steve Timmons, a 6-2 sophomore who also sparkled in his freshman year, was the leading Waverly board man, and second in scoring with a 14 per game slate. Mike Jackson, a 6-0 senior forward, averaged ten per game for the third man averaging in double figures.

The other starters are Bill Ruyle and either Charlie Miller or Dick Lowder at the guard spots.

Probably the high point in the Waverly season was a 54-52 decision over arch-rival Franklin at Waverly, coming on a Ross drive with five seconds remaining. Coach Price termed the victory the Scotties' finest all-around effort of the year. Waverly was at .500 early in the year, then lost five in a row, losing to several of the area's better outfits. They drew the top-rated and eventual winning team in both their own holiday tournament and the Winchester affair.

The Scotties again reached an even slate at 9-9, but lost to Routt's Rockets will be coming off nearly a two-week layoff for their entry in the regional Wednesday night, and the east-siders drew an opponent that undoubtedly has revenge on its mind.

The Rockets are one of only two teams to whip the highly-rated Pretzels of New Berlin, in a hair-raising 44-42 upset in the second round of the Waverly Tourney in December. For all but the final week of the regular season that was the only defeat inflicted on the Pretzels.

Routt, despite the upset over New Berlin, got off to a disastrous start this season, losing their first four of the year and holding a below-par 3-8 mark at the halfway mark of the campaign.

But from there the Rockets reversed the trend and have since rung up a respectable 7-3 record for a final 10-11 slate. These three losses since the PMSC tourney in January have been by a total of 18 points.

One of the main problems of the Routt outfit was getting a potent scoring punch from the team, and lack of rebounding. Only two of the starters over the course of the season have produced well offensively.

Leading scorer, 5-10 senior guard, Leo Carroll packs one of the leading point averages in the area, finishing right at the 19 per game level.

Carroll gets most of his points from 15-25-foot jumpers and off drives. After Carroll 5-11 senior forward Jerry McGinnis averaged about 13 per game, and was the team's leading rebounder.

From there no other Rocket neared double figures, although several hit two figures on individual games. Carroll, McGinnis and Mike Fitzpatrick all averaged near seven rebounds per game.

Both McGinnis and Carroll had good shooting percentages from the floor, with McGinnis holding a slight edge.

Biggest man on the team, 6-3 Bill Templin, is lost for the regional. Taking up the slack will be usual starter Dick Schindler, a 6-1 forward, and 5-11 forward J. D. Zeller. The other starter is usually 5-9 guard Phil Schickedanz, who serves as the team playmaker.

In all probability ISD's 18-game losing streak will be extended to 19 and the Tigers will be eliminated early Tuesday night, as the westsiders once again drew host Jacksonville.

For freshman coach Mike Moore his first year at ISD turned out to be a long one. The Tigers won their first game of the year in fine fashion, over Girard, but from there on were on the short end of things.

Unable to assemble a potent scoring punch of over one man, the Tigers passed the 60-point mark few times during the year and were actually in only a small portion of their games.

Probably the brightest spot in the ISD season was the sparkling play of 5-8 guard Mike Hummel. Hummel improved his game over his junior season and became one of the top scorers in the area his senior year.

Hummel, although playing out the last part of the year with a painful ankle injury that required quite a bit of taping, still managed to average an outstanding 18.6 points per outing on the campaign.

From there 6-0 forward Ray Richardson was the only other player to average in double figures, 12.5. Richardson was the Tigers top rebounder, picking off an average of ten per

The Winchester Wildcats have been an up and down club all year, but throughout the season have been a team capable of blowing any other right off the floor on a given night.

Winchester has a long history of being a top contender in the all-around effort of the year. Waverly was at .500 early in the year, then lost five in a row, losing to several of the area's better outfits. They drew the top-rated and eventual winning team in both their own holiday tournament and the Winchester affair.

The Scotties again reached an even slate at 9-9, but lost to game. Bill Lindquist, a 6-4 senior, was second in rebounding, starting only the last four games due to an earlier injury.

Walter Niesluchowski scored at a rate of about seven per game to round out the Tigers' main scoring punches.

Hummel, the Tigers' only outside scoring threat, shot at a respectable 45% rate from the floor on the year, while the team averaged only a mediocre 35%, 51% from the free throw line. Hummel's best game was a 33-point output in a narrow loss to Ashland.

The Tigers should be able to improve on their record next year, although losing Hummel, the Tigers top rebounder, picks as only one other player is losing through graduation.

run up a respectable 10-11 slate, with only Saturday night's game against Quincy Christian Brothers not counted, but they could have been well over the .500 mark but for some very close defeats at the hands of some tough outfits.

Winchester, in the second year under coach Jerry Foley, started off with a bang, winning five of their six games, but fell apart after the Christmas break.

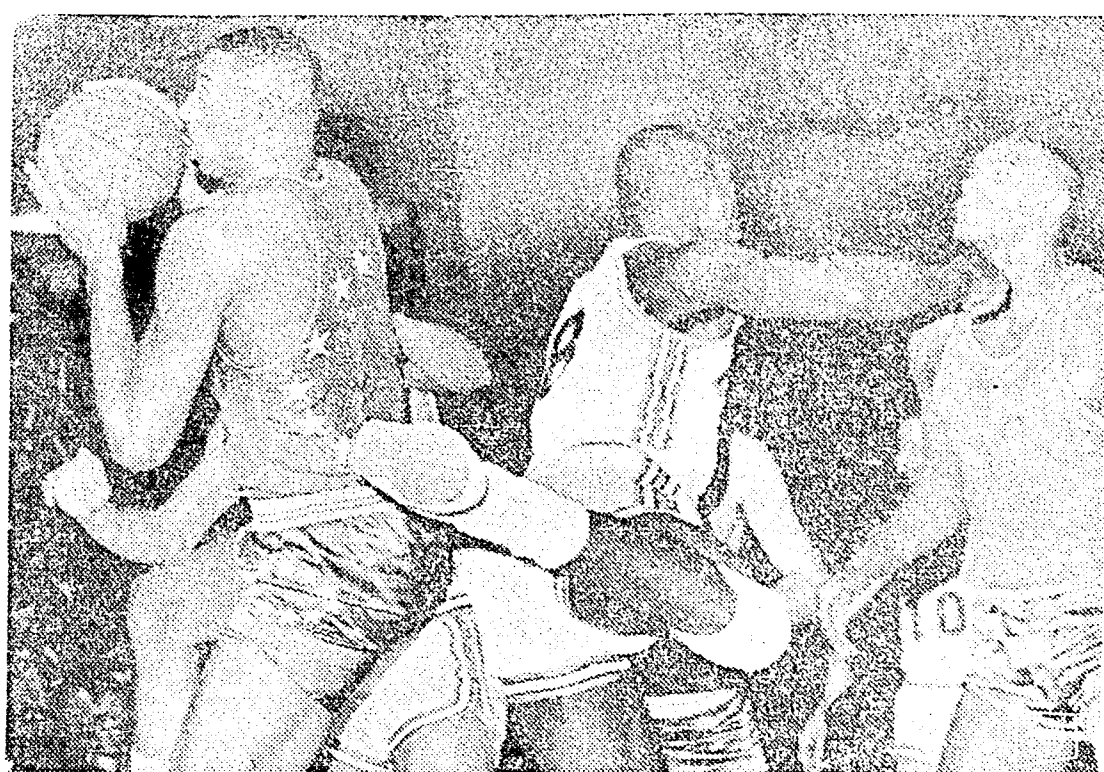

After that they lost to Carrollton, 49-48, in overtime and to Pittsfield by two the next night. Later the Wildcats fell to North Greene by three in an overtime, and last week was nipped by Southwestern, 81-80, in the closing seconds.

Much of the high-scoring Wildcat offense is centered around hot-shooting guard Roger Spencer, a three-year varsity man, Spencer, a 5-10, 150-pound, is averaging 18.5 on the year, shooting about 45% from the field. Spencer scored 33 points against Greenfield in the season's opener, and 31 two games later.

Rex Brockhouse, a 6-3 junior, is a rugged rebounder, and second in scoring with a respectable 15-points-per-game reading. Glen Mikus, a 6-0 junior, is also averaging

Resentment Over Berra's Firing Is Still Present

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Roger Smith is a New York stock broker here on a short vacation. He has owned a box seat at Yankee Stadium for years.

This year he has decided to buy a box seat at the Mets' Shea Stadium instead.

"When the Yankees fired Yogi Berra," Smith said simply, "I decided to quit them, too."

It's been 19 weeks since the act was committed but the resentment over Berra's firing as manager of the Yankees doesn't appear to have waned the least.

Moreover, the mystery concerning Yogi's firing remains as deep as ever.

"Yogi Berra was my biggest mistake," said Houk, "Looking back, the mistake was made in hiring Yogi as manager, not in firing him."

"The plain truth is that Yogi was not ready to manage. Everyone felt — me included — that Yogi would make a good manager. It did not turn out that way. Nobody was more disappointed than I was. I had, and still have, a great respect and genuine liking for him as a person."

UCLA Clinches PAC Title 83-68

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Second-ranked UCLA overwhelmed California 83-68 Saturday afternoon and clinched its fourth straight Pacific Athletic Conference basketball title.

Led by Gail Goodrich, UCLA was never headed after an early 6-2 Cal lead as they picked up their 12th straight conference victory without a loss.

The fast-breaking Bruins used speed and their fabled press running up strings of seven and nine straight points in the first half and forging a 37-24 half time lead.

Goodrich led all scorers with 22 points, meshing 11 free throws without a miss in the process.

Purdue Blasts Iowa Hopes 76-68

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Purdue hit 32 of 45 free throws and beat Iowa 76-68 Saturday, blasting the Hawkeyes' last hopes in the Big Ten basketball race.

Both teams were cold from the field, Purdue hitting 22 of 62 shots and Iowa 24 of 73. Dave Schellhase got 18 of the Boiler-makers' free throws and finished with 30 points.

Chris Pervall led the Hawkeyes with 17 points.

Three Iowa starters—Jerry Jones, George Pepples and Jimmy Rodgers—fouled out.

Purdue took the lead at 57-55 on a field goal by Bob Purkhiser with 6:58 to play and made 15 of its last 19 points.

Rose Breezes Past Blueboys By 96-78

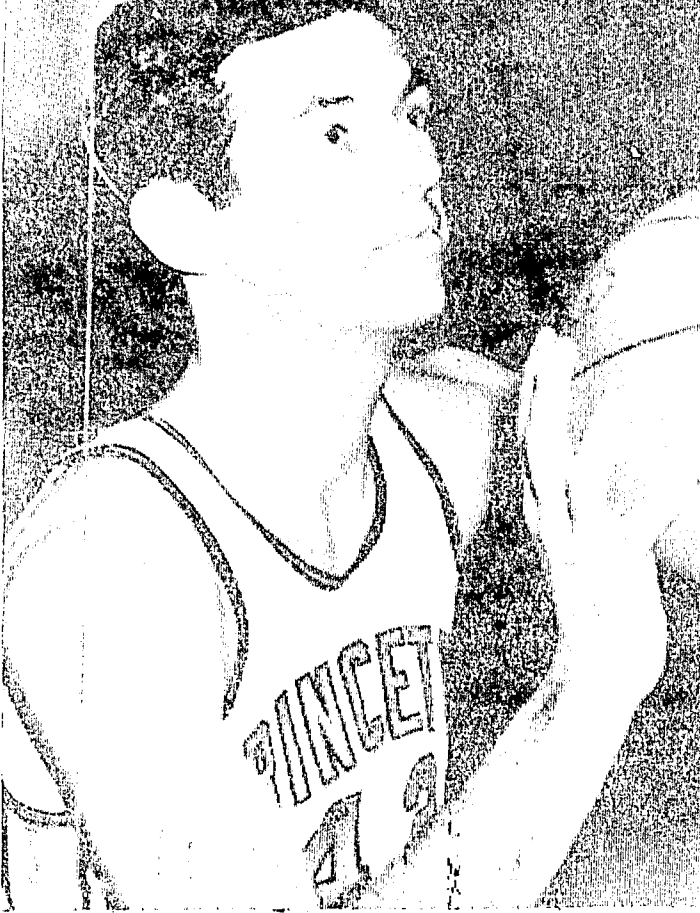

TERRA HAUTE, Ind. — Rose Poly proved to be too much for Illinois College by downing the Blueboys 96-78 here Saturday night.

In the opening minutes of the game the Engineers displayed tremendous shooting eyes by hitting 89% from the field in the first period. I.C. began to move up, and at half time the score read Rose Poly 49, Illinois College 41.

In the second half it was Rose all the way. They outscored the Blueboys nearly 2-1. Top gunner for the Engineers was Dan Curry who hit for 25 followed closely by Bill Yeager with 23. I.C. posted five in double figures lead by Bucky Sullivan with 16. Dick Clough, Pete Gallatin, Max Greer, and Dick Dickens poured in 15, 14, 13, and 11 respectively.

PRINCETON, N.J.: Princeton basketball star Bill Bradley Friday was selected Basketball Player of the Year by United Press International.

Aces Edge Granite City, Reavis Tie For Again 68-67

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — Evansville, Ind., the number one ranked small college team in the nation, came from behind and took a 68-67 basketball victory Saturday night from fourth-ranked Southern Illinois.

Larry Humes hit a free throw with 1:07 remaining to break a 67-67 tie and ice the game for the Aces. It was Evansville's 24th straight win against no losses for the season.

SIU is now 16-5 for the season.

Southern Illinois led 42-40 at the half but about mid-way through the last half Evansville's Herb Williams hit a lay-up to tie it 58-58. Then the two teams traded points until time ran out with the Aces in front.

George McNeal had 21 points to lead the SIU attack. Jerry Sloan led the Evansville offense with 21.

It was the first loss at home for Southern Illinois this season. The Salukis had won 12 in a row on their home court before their defeat tonight by Evansville. The Aces had beaten SIU 81-80 in an earlier season game at Evansville.

Gophers Blister Indiana To Take Over 2nd, 100-88

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota blistered Indiana with a fiery second-half attack to overcome a seven-point deficit and defeat the Hoosiers 100-88 Saturday night.

The victory, coupled with Illinois' loss to Michigan, gave Minnesota undisputed possession of second place in the Big Ten basketball race. Minnesota is 9-2 in the conference and trails Michigan by two games with only three to play.

Lou Hudson engineered Minnesota's win with ring second-half attack. He collected 18 of his 31 points after intermission.

Indiana used a flurry late in the first half to overcome a five-point Minnesota lead and took a 51-44 advantage to the dressing room.

The Hoosiers owned a nine-point margin two minutes into the second half, 55-46.

Minnesota then launched its big offensive, outscoring Indiana 39-15 in the next 10 minutes to take a safe 85-70 lead.

For Minnesota, Archie Clark added 25 points and Mel Northway 22. Jon McGlocklin topped Indiana with 25, while Tom VanArsdale added 21 and twin brother Dick 20.

Providence Wins 20 For 7th Year

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Providence's NCAA tournament-bound Friars posted their seventh consecutive 20-victory basketball season Saturday with a late rush which defeated Holy Cross 75-64.

Providence has a 20-1 record while Holy Cross is 13-8.

Five Players Hit In Double Figures

PITTSFIELD—A balanced scoring effort with five players in double figures, coupled with a blazing 30-point third quarter, propelled Jacksonville to its 20th win of the year, an 86-65 triumph over upset-minded Pittsfield.

Pittsfield gave the Crimson fits for most all of the first half, leading by four after the initial eight minutes, but Jacksonville got rolling in the third quarter and it was the Jacks' ball game from there on.

The victory sends Jacksonville into its own regional Tuesday with a 20-4 mark, while Pittsfield now takes an 11-12 reading into the Rushville Regional Tuesday.

Ron Coleman, who did not start and played only about three quarters, led the point-getting with 17, but Dennis Wegheoff, Steve Bone and Creston Whitaker, who played only about 16 minutes, all got 16 markers and Dean Hess, in the most balanced front from the Crimson all year.

Pittsfield refused to play dead for the highly-favored Crimson outfit and stayed in contention for the entire first half. The hustling Saukees stayed right with Jacksonville through all of the first quarter and held a 21-17 advantage at the first break.

Jacksonville managed to get several 5-7 point leads in the second frame, but Pittsfield stayed behind the hot outside shooting of guard Stan Boyd. The Crimson led by only 40-36 at intermission.

Break Game Open

The Crimson scored 12 of the first 14 points in the third stanza to break the game open. Instrumental in the outburst was a hot 58% shooting clip in the frame, plus eight quick points by Whitaker and six by Wegheoff.

From there Jacksonville had

Clan Grapplers Finish In Third At Lake Forest

LAKE FOREST — The McMurray College wrestling squad concluded its season here Saturday afternoon with a third place finish in the Lake Forest Invitational Wrestling Tournament.

The Highlanders collected a total of 62 points in the meet, being nosed out by Kalamazoo College with 67 and Loras University with 64. Other team scores included: Valparaiso 40, Elmhurst 32, the University of Chicago 3 and Lake Forest 7.

Two Clan grapplers, Syd LaMore and Bob Kellogg, won top honors in their individual weight classes. LaMore, a freshman from Midlothian, ran his season record to 15-2 in capturing the 177 pound crown, while Kellogg, a sophomore, won the 155 pound title in the heavy-weight bracket.

Senior captain Bob Mall from Naperville placed second in the 147 lb. class, pinning two opponents in the preliminary rounds, but losing by a 5-2 decision in the finals. Tom Knight and Rich Johnson also gained runner-up honors in the 157 and 130 lb. classes, respectively.

The Highlanders end the season with a 7-2 dual meet record and second place finishes at both the Wheaton and Knox College Invitational earlier in the season.

BADGERS BREEZE BY SPARTANS 99-89

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin dealt Michigan State its 11th straight Big Ten basketball defeat 99-89 Saturday.

Badgers combined accurate free throw shooting and an outstanding second half effort by forward Ken Barnes.

The Badgers' victory came despite a 34-point effort by the Spartans' Stan Washington.

Michigan State was in command throughout the first half and held a 45-41 lead at intermission in the wild contest.

Barnes led the Badgers to their third conference victory with 24 points, 20 of them scored in the second half.

PIRATE GM HURT
FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Joe L. Brown, general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates baseball team, and his wife were injured Friday night when their car hit a bridge north of here. The club's spring training camp is at Fort Myers.

Brown was treated for lacerations of the face and a broken nose. Mrs. Brown underwent surgery for a broken leg and pelvic fractures but hospital officials listed her condition as good.

February 8-Game Doubles Won By Greenfield Pair

February's eight game doubles tournament held at the Bowling Center was won by two bowlers from Greenfield. Dale Baldes and Bob Garner had a sixteen game total of 3147 with Dale having an eight game total of 1493 and Bob totalling 1654.

Bob had the tournament high three game series of 675 on games of 217, 215 and 243. He averaged 206 for the eight games. They won $26 for first place plus $12 more on games of 390, 399 and 430.

Second place money of $24 went to Rod Wallace and Kenny Drake. They had 2979 for 16 games with Rod having 1449 and Kenny 1530 for eight games apiece. Kenny had the highest single game of 257. With his 257 and Rod's 191 for a 448 game they just won the last game beating Marshall Manker and George Manker who had 437 and Vance Harbin and Rich Dixon with a 429.

In their game Marshall had 237 and George an even 200 while Vance had a 220 beating Rich by 11 pins with a 209. The 448 game was the highest shot in the tournament and was worth four dollars.

Third place was won by Marshall Manker and George Manker. They had 2940 for the sixteen games. Marshall had an eight game total of 1387 and George totalling 1553. They won $14 for third place and four dollars for one high game, a 390.

Winning four dollars for a high game but not placing were Everett Birdsell and Chet Reum, 388 and 400 for eight dollars and Russ Keir and Marvin Zulauf a 415 game for four dollars.

Don Cole had the only 600 series besides the 675 shot by Garner. Don had 610 on games of 191, 204 and 215.

Bowling a 200 game were Chet Reum, 200, 220, 204 and 200; Everett Birdsell, 200; Gerald Lacey, 211; George Manker, 202, 200, 204, 214 and 202; Marshall Manker, 237; Russ Keir, 204, 201 and 223; Marvin Zulauf, 221; Dale Baldes, 219; Don Cole, 204 and 215; Ray Ford, 209; Ken Drake, 201 and 257; Vance Harbin, 200 and 220; Rich Dixon, 209, 201 and 206; Bob Garner, 217, 215, 243, and 237; Rod Wallace, 205.

The next doubles tournament will be held March 21 and 1:30 p.m. at the Bowling Center.

MAC GAME POSTPONED

Due to the poor road conditions between Jacksonville and Indianapolis the MacMurray-Indiana Central basketball game scheduled for Saturday night has been postponed indefinitely. The contest, which would have been the season finale for the Highlanders, leaves the Clan with a disappointing campaign mark of 7-14 for the year.

Coaches Praise Russell

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—"A guy like that always comes up when he's needed," said Illinois Coach Harry Combes of Michigan All-American Cazzie Russell.

Combes' remark was made shortly after Russell had scored Michigan's last five points to lead the Wolverines to an 80-79 victory which all but wrapped up Michigan's second straight Big Ten basketball championship.

"It was the best defensive game we played all year but you have to give Michigan credit," said Combes. "Everytime we seemed to get to a spot where it looked as if we could control the game, they'd come right back."

Don Freeman felt bad about the loss because Russell out-jumped when he tipped in the basket which gave Michigan the victory. "Russell jumped over me to get the ball," moaned Freeman. "I guess I need about 20 pounds more to get over guys like that."

Praise For Russell
Michigan Coach Dave Strack had high praise for Russell. "I'm glad to have him on my side and I was glad that they fouled him with nine seconds to play."

Russell converted the free throw which gave Michigan a three-point lead and the Wolverines allowed Skip Thoren the final basket for fear of fouling him.

"Actually," said Strack, "at a time like that they'd have to foul Cazzie because he'd be the only guy we'd want to have the ball. That's the fourth time he's won for us this season in the final seconds. He did it against Wichita, Princeton, Indiana and now Illinois."

However, Russell wasn't the only one to warrant Strack's praise. "Bill Buntin played a tremendous game, both on offense and defense."

Buntin scored 30 points and put the lid on Illinois' Skip Thoren, holding the hook-shot artist to six baskets in 20 attempts. Thoren seldom this season has had to go up against a man as big or as good as Buntin.

Ohio State Gets By 'Cats 100-87

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State hit the century mark Saturday for the second time this week in handing Northwestern its seventh straight loss, 100-87, in a Big Ten basketball game.

The Ohioans, Big Ten champs the last five years but also-rans this season, outscored the Wildcats 24-2 in a seven-minute first-half span, overcoming a 19-14 deficit.

Northwestern, behind 44-29 at intermission, crept up to 50-16 in the second half but then the Bucks pulled away.

Bob Dove, who took over the center job two games ago, led Ohio State with 21 points, and five Buckeyes were in double figures. Walt Tiberti topped the losers with 18.

Virginia Grade Team Advances In State Field

MATTOON — The Virginia lightweight grade school basketball team advanced into the semi-final round of the Mattoon State Tournament Saturday night by downing the Deer Grove squad 48-27. Forward Jim Edlen of Virginia scored 22 points in the contest to establish a new high for the tournament.

Virginia put up a tight zone defense in the first half that the Deer Grove quintet was unable to penetrate and could only collect three points throughout the entire half. Taking advantage of the situation, Virginia led 17-3 at the intermission and coasted home with the win.

The contest was the first state tournament game ever won by a Virginia squad and moves them into the semi-final round against Staunton at 7:45 on Monday night in the Mattoon gym.

ALTON, Ill. — Success is synonymous with basketball at Collinsville and this season has been no exception.

The Kahoks have been the power of southwestern Illinois in 1964-65. Ditto 1963-64, 1962-63, 1961-62, 1960-61 and as far back as veteran observers in this area can remember. Oh, there have been few exceptions, but they have been just that—few.

The current Kahoks recently waltzed to their second successive unbeaten Southwestern Conference championship with a 12-0 record. They are working on a string of 12 straight wins and have a 20-2 mark.

Only two teams have been able to defeat the Kahoks. The first upset occurred on Dec. 19 when Decatur Eisenhower, playing on its own floor, repelled the Purple and White, 54-51. The second, a real shocker, came in the championship game of the East St. Louis holiday tournament when the host Flyers slowed down the tempo of the game and emerged 53-48 victors.

Defense Biggest Asset
What makes Collinsville tick? Defense, with a full court zone press, is the biggest asset. The Kahoks harass the opposition into frequent mistakes and cash in on easy baskets.

Teams from this area who face Collinsville two, sometimes three times per season, are familiar with the jitterbug defense but can do little about it. Imagine a team facing it for the first time!

The offense has a simple formula: Pass, pass, pass, open man, shoot, swish! Of course poise, pride and court savvy have a lot to do with Collinsville's success.

The Kahoks are paced by 6-3 senior Denny Pace, their center. He has many of the same moves as his predecessor, 6-6 Roger Bohnenstiel, now a freshman at Kansas U.

Pace is a deadly shot from a 20-foot radius of the basket. He has exceptional jumping ability and is one of the best hustlers on the team. He is averaging 23.5 points per game and saves his best performances for tough opponents.

Not A Tall Team
This is not a tall Collinsville team as fans have been accustomed to seeing in recent seasons. Tallest player is 6-4 Mike Vincent. Others on the starting five are 6-1 Jack Darlington, the only returning starter from last season's 28-1 club, 6-2 Don Birger and 6-3 Harry Parker.

Four of the five starters—Vincent is the exception—are averaging in double figures. Parker is the team's second leading scorer, Birger third and Darlington fourth.

Having played its final home game of the season last week, Collinsville added another honor to its list of basketball credentials. When the Kahoks walloped St. Louis it marked the fifth straight undefeated season at home for them. Their record at home for the past five seasons: 56-0! Not since the championship game in the 1959-60 Regional has a Collinsville team known defeat on its home floor.

The Kahoks have been to the state tournament three of the last four seasons. In 1960-61 they went all the way and finished with a 32-0 record. That was the season Bogie Redmon, now of Illinois fame, and Fred Riddle made a mockery of the state meet at old Huff Gymnasium.

Collinsville Again Tops In South

ALTON, Ill. — Success is synonymous with basketball at Collinsville and this season has been no exception.

The Kahoks have been the power of southwestern Illinois in 1964-65. Ditto 1963-64, 1962-63, 1961-62, 1960-61 and as far back as veteran observers in this area can remember. Oh, there have been few exceptions, but they have been just that—few.

The current Kahoks recently waltzed to their second successive unbeaten Southwestern Conference championship with a 12-0 record. They are working on a string of 12 straight wins and have a 20-2 mark.

Only two teams have been able to defeat the Kahoks. The first upset occurred on Dec. 19 when Decatur Eisenhower, playing on its own floor, repelled the Purple and White, 54-51. The second, a real shocker, came in the championship game of the East St. Louis holiday tournament when the host Flyers slowed down the tempo of the game and emerged 53-48 victors.

Freeport Team Looks To March

By PHIL PASH
Sports Writer, Rockford Star
& Register-Republic

FREEPORT, Ill. (AP)—Freeport High's best basketball team in 14 years has Pretzel fans eagerly looking forward to the month of March and the state tournament elimination series.

The Pretzels, who clinched the Big Eight Conference championship Feb. 13, owns a 20-1 season record with a winning streak of 19 games-longest in school history.

One goal still not accomplished is to become the Big Eight's first unbeaten champ since 1957 when Elgin posted a 10-0 mark. The Pretzels finish Friday night at Rockford Bryan.

Then the Pretzels, rated No. 7 in the latest Associated Press poll, will try to run their regional winning streak to 30 straight games in their own tournament March 1-5.

Ron Norman, who took the Freeport job after guiding Ames to the Iowa state high school championship in 1955, has never lost a regional in his nine previous seasons here.

Pretzels Again Favored
The Pretzels are overwhelming favorites again this year. Freeport High has at least three times as many students as any other school assigned to the regional, and the Pretzels are unbeaten in eight games in their new gym.

The last team to generate as much excitement in this city of more than 26,000 was the 1950-51 club which won 15 straight games, the Big Eight crown and the state championship.

Six players have carried the scoring load thus far. Guard Ron Norman 6-3, the coach's son, is the team's top scorer with a 19-point per game average.

His 5-10 running mate at guard, Greg Wohlford, is averaging 12 despite his role as playmaker and ball-handler. Gary Schleich 6-4 is the center. He is a good rebounder and defensive player, and is averaging 10 points.

The forwards are 6-4 Randy Hawley, the only junior among the starters, and 6-3 Gary Swale. Hawley is averaging 7 points while Swale carries a modest 4 point average. A 200-pounder, Swale is used primarily as a rebounder.

When coach Norman wants more scoring punch he inserts 6-3 senior Dan Heine into the lineup in place of Swale. Heine is regarded by most Big Eight coaches as the best sixth man in the league.

Concentrate On Defense
The Pretzels are not a high-scoring team, probably because they concentrate on defense. They have employed a full-court zone press all season.

The most points scored against Freeport resulted in its only setback in the second game of the season, 63-51. The team was Monroe-unbeaten and rated No. 1 in Wisconsin and the Cheesemakers won on their court.

Norman, who has never had a losing season in 16 previous years of coaching, has won only one sectional title. His teams have been beaten by Rockford Auburn in the finals the last two years.

The sectional will be held at Northern Illinois University fieldhouse, DeKalb. Winners from the regionals at Rockford West, Sterling and DeKalb will join the winner of the Freeport tournament.

Auburn is top-seeded at Rockford, Rock Falls is ranked No. 1 at Sterling and DeKalb got the top seed in its own tourney. The Pretzels own decisions over all three.

Civil Defense Exercise—

Volunteers To Test
Psychic Reactions
During Confinement

Editors Note: The JOURNAL COURIER'S legislative correspondent, Dick Emery, will be among 100 persons taking part in an unusual Civil Defense exercise in Springfield next weekend to determine psychological reaction to confinement in a disaster shelter. He will write a first-hand account of the events which unfold during this intriguing experiment.

By DICK EMERY
Legislative Correspondent

SPRINGFIELD—A unique study of psychological reactions of persons confined in a Civil Defense shelter will be conducted here next weekend. This 24-hour test will attract national attention since it will be the first of its kind in the nation, according to Vernon Strongman, director of Sangamon County Civil Defense.

Similar shelter tests have been held, both in Springfield and in other cities throughout the U.S. where physical effects were studied. But Strongman says, this is the first time the observers will concentrate on the psychological reaction to confinement.

Fifty persons will be quartered in each of two shelters in the basement of the Municipal Building here, and each group's activities will be closely monitored on closed circuit television by CD officials on another floor.

Strongman emphasized that the shelter activities will be seen only on closed circuit TV by a limited number of highly selected, trained observers and that no part of the proceedings will be aired on commercial TV outlets.

Religion In Life
Week Services
Planned At IC

Rev. Kenneth Hindman, minister of Southminster Presbyterian Church in St. Louis, will be the featured speaker Monday through Wednesday at Illinois College in a "Religion-in-life week" on the campus. "Search for the Lost Dimension" is to be the theme.

Student chairman Jack Russel, junior from Springfield, Virginia, heads a seven-member committee which has arranged nine seminars, 11 informal discussion sessions, the three keynote addresses by Pastor Hindman, six morning and evening topical sessions, and a concluding vesper service Wednesday night.

"Western man has lost the dimension of depth in his life. It is lost because we lack the courage to ask and to receive answers for the ultimate questions of our existence," Russel said.

Supervising the week is Illinois College Chaplain W. Robert McClelland.

A president's reception for faculty and wives with Pastor Hindman will be held Sunday evening at Barnes House. A "hooray" hymn sing with pizza refreshments will be held at 8:30 p.m. Sunday in Baxter Hall.

The public is welcome at all sessions, according to Chaplain McClelland.

Daily themes include: Monday, "Lost: Meaning in Life"; Tuesday, "Lost: Confidence in Truth"; and Wednesday, "Lost: Humanity in Religion." The closing vesper service Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Rammelkamp Chapel will feature "A Sermon in Song," presented by the Illinois College Choir and selected soloists.

Stalking A Deadly Killer

Once a thing of beauty, this towering American elm fell victim to the Dutch elm disease and the scenic beauty of this home was ruined.

Chief culprit is the European elm-bark beetle.

Unknown in the Americas before 1930, Dutch elm disease has become our most destructive shade tree killer in a mere 35 years. It was first spotted in Ohio in 1930 and around the port of New York City in 1933. Previously it had been known only in Europe. For prevention, the U.S. Department of Agriculture advises spraying trees with DDT and other chemicals early in the spring when the elm-bark beetle, which spreads a deadly fungus, is feeding. The prompt and complete destruction of all dead and dying elms is also urged.

Weather For The 'Trees'

Spring is in the air, and Saturday $79.50 in contributions was received for the Jacksonville Tree Planting Fund from local residents interested in the re-planting of shade trees in the city.

Total amount received toward the civic project is now $210.50.

The campaign, co-sponsored by the Pilot Club and Journal Courier, is designed to help keep Jacksonville "the city of trees."

Sponsors of the campaign hope to begin planting trees, purchased from local nurseries, in March and complete the process by April 15.

Local civic organizations, school classes and churches have been encouraged to join the project and plant a tree for the future beauty of Jacksonville.

Contributions to the Jacksonville Tree Planting Fund are tax deductible, according to Subsection 170 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code.

The fund is being administered by the Pilot Club, which will let contracts for the acquisition of the trees. Once the trees are planted, they will become the property of the city, which will supervise the care and upkeep.

If at some future date the Pilot Club should terminate its administration of the project and fund, any balance of the monies on hand will be transferred to the city.

Terms of the agreement state that the city will keep the account separate and apart from all other funds for the expressed purpose of continuing to purchase and plant trees where they are needed in the city.

Those contributions received Saturday were:
Mayor and Mrs. Byron Holkenbrink $ 10
Mrs. Maud G. Hackett $ 25

School Election
Set April 10
In District 117

Two positions on the board of education of District 117 will be decided at an election April 10 from noon to 7 p.m.

Walter DeSarra and William Deem will complete their terms this year. Mr. Deem has circulated his petition and filed for a second term as a member of the board. Mr. DeSarra said Saturday that he was still undecided.

March 11 is the last day for filing petitions for nomination of candidates for the seven-member board.

First day for filing was last Thursday.

The school board election will be just ten days prior to the city general election.

Members of the board may reside anywhere within the boundaries of District 117.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. William Brant, 717 Pearl St., became parents of a daughter born at 11:10 a.m. Friday at Holy Cross hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Weeks, 518 West Douglas Ave., became parents of a son born at 1:11 p.m. Friday at Holy Cross hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John Elliott, 118 Havendale, became parents of a daughter born at 9:34 p.m. Friday at Holy Cross hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lashmet, Winchester, route one, became parents of a daughter born at 6:07 a.m. Saturday at Holy Cross hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. William Brant, Birdsell of Kansas City, Missouri, are the parents of a son born Saturday. The baby weighed 7 lb. 15 oz. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Birdsell, Jacksonville, route four. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Millman, Taylorville. Mrs. Birdsell is the former Marianne Millman.

WHERE TO SEND FUNDS FOR TREES

Contributions to the tree-planting fund may be sent to "Trees," Jacksonville Journal Courier, 235 West State street. Names of those donating between $4.50 and $15, the price range of the trees, will be published, unless otherwise designated.

This unusual photo shows the pretty, but fatal, designs fashioned by the elm-bark beetle. The beetle drills into the tree and deposits eggs. These hatch into grubs. In their overwinter stay they attain a larva stage. The area photographed is called a brood gallery. In the spring the matured beetle drills its way out through the bark.

Holding a firm grip on most of the United States, Dutch elm disease exists in all the darkly colored states and has been reported in the shaded states.

This reduces egg-laying areas for the bark beetle. While stepped-up research is under way, at present no cure for Dutch elm disease is known. However, there are hopeful aspects in its control and county agents or U.S. Department of Agriculture officers can give advice.

Beardstown City
Officials Plan
Wisconsin Visit

BEARDSTOWN — March 10 is the new date set for the inspection of Oscar Mayer Packing company headquarters in Madison, Wisconsin by Beardstown's mayor and members of the Chamber of Commerce.

Bad weather last week prevented the scheduled flight to Madison from Springfield in the Mayor private plane, but the trip has been rescheduled and will be made "weather permitting."

Mayor Glenn Tillitt, Robert Donaldson, Attorney Milton McClure and John Goodell will make the flight, returning here the evening of the same day, according to present plans.

Preliminary surveys of the land involved have been started and a judgment will be made on the basis of these surveys and calculations as to the exact location of the various buildings and other facilities in the $5 million setup.

Full State
Robert D. Humphrey, a CIPS company employee, has secured petitions and will file as a candidate for 4th ward alderman of the Progressive ticket, which makes a full slate of alderman candidates on this list headed by Robert C. MacClinechie, prospective candidate for mayor.

Bob Edwards is the candidate in the first ward, Orville Thompson is listed in the second, Glenn Lauderback in the third, Humphrey in the fourth and Robert Hammel in the fifth.

War On Poverty Conference Here
Thursday, Mar. 4

Jacksonville will be the scene of a conference called by Governor Otto Kerner to discuss ways and means of waging the war on poverty.

The special series of task force conferences are being held throughout the state. The Jacksonville meeting will be held Thursday, March 4, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The conference agenda will begin at 9 o'clock in the morning for registration and coffee. Mayor Byron Holkenbrink will welcome those present and the keynote speech will be given by Douglas Anderson, administrative assistant to U.S. Senator Paul H. Douglas.

Lt. Governor Samuel Shapiro will be on hand representing the governor. Conference speakers will be representatives of the Washington, D.C. office of Economic Opportunity, and other federal and state agencies directly responsible for the administration of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, such as the U.S. Department of Health Education and Welfare, Labor and Agriculture.

A luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. at the Masonic temple followed by the afternoon session resuming at 2 o'clock.

Questions and answers will be handled after the speakers are finished.

BLIZZARD STRANDS
MANY VEHICLES
IN NEW BERLIN

NEW BERLIN — Many streets were blocked in New Berlin Wednesday night and Thursday with six foot drifts halting all traffic in the village.

Approximately 50 trucks and automobiles were marooned in New Berlin Wednesday night. Ray's Standard service station and the New Berlin restaurant, owned by Tom Frank, stayed open all night to accommodate the travelers.

The American Legion home was also opened as a shelter. By Thursday privately owned loaders and other snow removal equipment was in use to clear the streets. Although many residents were stuck in snow drifts, no serious damage was reported.

All local schools were closed Wednesday through Friday and all meetings in the area were either cancelled or postponed.

The open meeting of the Centennial Planning group, originally scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 24, has been rescheduled for Tuesday evening, March 9, at 7:30 p.m. at the Sangamon County fairgrounds.

All interested persons of the Community Unit 16 school district are invited to attend. In addition to the initial organization representatives, a church is A. J. Reichart Sr., and for the K.C.'s, Roland Amrhein.

The summation of the meeting will be handled by Thomas C. Jackson, administrative director of the Illinois Office of Economic Opportunity.

Mayor Holkenbrink has sent invitations to a number of community leaders in the field of business, education, politics and members of the clergy.

Lenten Breakfast
Series Begins
Next Thursday

The annual Lenten Breakfast series for men and women will start next Thursday at Hamilton's restaurant from 8 a.m. to 8:45 a.m. each Thursday for seven weeks.

The speakers for the weekly meetings sponsored by the Greater Jacksonville Council of Churches are: Rev. Lando Eitzen; Rev. James F. McClymont; Rev. G. W. Haley; Rev. R. M. Harris; Rev. John Henschke; Rev. Heraldo Nance; and Rev. Gerald Peterson. Each minister will be assisted by a member of his respective congregation.

Tickets for the series are $4.50 each and may be purchased from any member church. The brief services are designed for busy people and are dismissed promptly at 8:45 a.m.

Pre-Easter study and meditation services sponsored by the United Council of Church Women will begin at 10 a.m. March 11 and will continue for an additional four weeks at the same hour. Women from all denominations and from the Jacksonville area are invited to attend these meetings and as an additional aid to mothers, nursery services and care will be utilized at each of the churches where the meetings are held.

The Lord's Prayer will serve as a theme for these meetings, the first of which will be held at Brooklyn Methodist Church with Mrs. Dale Robb as the speaker. Mrs. H. N. Nance will be the speaker at the second meeting on March 18 at Bethel A.M.E. church and Mrs. C. Leplee Kanatkar will speak on the third meeting to be held at Congregational church on March 25.

Mrs. William Sturgess will lead the fourth meeting April 1 at Mt. Emory Baptist church and Mrs. John Atkins will close the study series at Brooklyn Methodist church April 8.

Mrs. Richard Edward LeGate
nee Elizabeth King Cluxton

Announcement is made by Dr. and Mrs. Harley E. Cluxton, Jr. of Lake Forest of the marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth King Cluxton, to First Lieutenant Richard Edward LeGate of Jacksonville, Florida. They were married on February fourteenth in the Episcopal Chapel, Tenth Special Forces Headquarters, Bad Golz, Germany. The groom is the son of Mrs. Robinson LeGate and the late Frank M. LeGate.

The bride made her bow at a supper dance hosted by her parents in Lake Forest and was also introduced to society at the Passavant Cotillion in 1962. First Lieutenant LeGate was one of her escorts at the Cotillion Ball.

Mrs. LeGate, whose mother is the former Elizabeth King of Jacksonville, attended Ethel Walker, Ferry Hall and Mary Baldwin College in Staunton, Virginia. The bridegroom graduated from Citadel Military College, Charleston, South Carolina, in 1962.

Mrs. Harrison King, 11 Pitner Place, is the maternal grandmother of the bride.

The Ball will be held on Saturday, April twenty-fourth. This will be the eighth annual Ball to be sponsored by the Art Association as a fund-raising project for the Strawn Art Gallery. Proceeds are used to provide an Art Director; offer art classes for children and adults; expand exhibits open to the public and make improvements to the Gallery.

Festivities include the Coronation of the Queen and the presentation of the Court, at the Jacksonville High School gymnasium; the Reception at the Strawn Art Gallery and dancing to a name band at the Dunlap Motor Inn.

Young people who make up the Queen's Court are chosen by a secret committee of six. The number of participants in each category is limited by the Board of Directors of the Art Association, and these young people are chosen from families which have shown an active interest in the Art Association, by being members; past patrons or contributing volunteer service.

It has been a tradition that the identity of the Queen remains a secret until the night of the Ball.

of bridge and one of Po-Ke-No. Bridge prizes were awarded to Marian Hinderliter and Beverly Killam, and the Po-Ke-No prize went to Pat Prather.

Members and their husbands enjoyed a Valentine dinner at the Blackhawk Restaurant on Sunday evening, February 14. After dinner the group spent the evening informally, with dancing and bridge.

The chapter met with Margaret Murphy for business on February 22. Beverly Killam and Dorothy Fanning introduced Mrs. Grace Hughes, local bridge expert, who spoke on the history and rules of the game, then answered the questions of the group. Correspondence was read by Beverly Killam: a note from honorary member Ada Dobbs expressing thanks for a gift, Valentine card from Esther Ingolia, an announcement of the St. Louis County Council Friendship Breakfast on May 15-16, and the annual report from the Illinois Prairie Girl Scout Council, Inc.

Barbara Gross led a discussion regarding favors for the Founder's Day banquet in April. The service chairmen reported Sue Moss, Carolyn Kuklies, Nancy Ingram, and Ruth Pennell presented this month's party at the Red Farm, through the Volunteer Services Program. Social chairman Betty DeFrates reported a Valentine party, and announced that the social committee has planned a come-as-you-are breakfast for the near future.

President Connie Roegge reminded members the Ritual of Jewels ceremony will be held at the first meeting in April, at which time pledges will be fully initiated.

Betty DeFrates will serve as chairman, with Margaret Murphy and Barbara Gross as members of a nominating committee. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

LAKELAND COLLEGE GRAD Gerald Dix of this city is among the 25 students at Lakeland College, Sheboygan, Wis., to complete requirements for graduation following the fall and winter terms.

He will receive his diploma at Lakeland's annual commencement exercises, Sunday, May 30.

Beta Sigma Phi Chapters

Gamma and Xi Alpha Upsilon chapters held at dessert meeting recently at Hamilton's Cafe. Miriam Robinson and Mildred Brown were co-hostesses.

The meeting opened with the ritual. President Lilo Sullivan appointed Marian May to take Billy Hamilton's place on the Founders' Day committee. A letter from Jacksonville State Hospital was read in regard to members volunteering services.

A slate of officers for both chapters was read by Ruth Wade, chairman of the nominating committee. Naomi Woods, program chairman, presented Della Simmons, one of the members, who gave a picture-narrative of her trip to Europe last summer.

The next meeting will be held March 8 at the home of Harriett Brasel.

Betty DeFrates and Margaret Murphy were hostesses for the February 8 social meeting of Zeta Beta chapter. Following the serving of a Valentine cake, members enjoyed three tables

A Better Generation

Next to dear old dad, the person most concerned with the antics of college students is certainly a college president.

If the younger generation is going to the dogs, he is one of the first to hear the barking. If, miraculously, it is a better generation than the one before it, the college president is one of the first to see evidence of it.

One of those who thinks it is very much the latter is Vernon R. Alden, president of Ohio University in Athens, Ohio, who detects an increasing maturity in the nation's students.

"Today's students," he says, "regard college not as a haven from responsibility but as a training ground for citizenship. They see themselves as the conscience of the nation: they are supplying the energy for needed social change."

Attempts by a college or university to curb this "dialogue" with society, Alden says, sets the stage for an explosive reaction—such as the student protests at the University of California last year.

Alden, who has taken a hand in changing society himself by helping to plan the Job Corps part of the government's antipoverty program, thinks universities are often unwilling to treat today's earlier-maturing young people as adults.

"Today's student has a sense of mission," he says. "But his idealism is not vague; it is highly practical and pragmatic. The students I meet are skeptical of those who talk about their convictions but do not act on them."

One thing is certain, stresses Alden: More students are going into teaching, social work and politics, fewer into business. The reason is that they can live comfortably in almost any career they choose. Satisfaction, then, not money, becomes the deciding factor.

"As I look at today's students," says Alden, "I am deeply moved by their maturity. It is fortunate that they are accepting responsibility at such an early age, for already the torch of leadership is being passed to them."

Indian Fortunes Rise

A new economic awakening is evident among our Western Indians, with a new approach to the handicaps under which they have long struggled. "If we can't beat the Yankee capitalists then we'll join 'em or rent to them," as one tribal leader puts it.

A tribe of the Colorado River Indians has invested $54,000 of its own funds in a $550,000 cotton spinning mill to be built on land leased from the Indians. Employment is assured for 95 members of the tribe. At another point on the California side of the river a complex of hunt clubs, dude ranches and game preserves is being developed, with income guarantees for members of the tribe owning the land.

In one Arizona Indian community the tribe has built a two-million-dollar annual income from agricultural lands and now is dickering with a corporation for establishment of an industrial park which will provide on-the-job training for Indians. The Mohaves are using Wall Street Journal ads to promote long term land leases and the Navajos with their millions from oil and gas are operating motels, lumber mills and other enterprises, including a silverware jewelry store.

Indian living standards are slowly beginning to rise. Tribal grants help get talented youngsters an education. The Red Men are acquiring new hopes and ambitions. This is good news. They've had their good luck coming a long time.

Dear Ann:

Doesn't Want to Play Too Hard To Get

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I am 25 and need help in a hurry. The man I've been going with is 30. He was engaged to a girl two years ago. She was killed in an accident and he is still getting over it.

This man is a manufacturer's representative and he travels on the road about half the time. I see him weekends. The last time he was home he asked me to take a week's vacation from my job and travel with him. It sounded like heaven.

I've always wanted to stay at first class hotels, dine in fine restaurants, see movies in the afternoon, shop in the country's most elegant stores and just loaf a little. It took a lot of will power to turn down his offer.

I'd like to marry this man and I think he'd like to marry me. I'm afraid if I play too hard to get he'll find someone who is more agreeable.

Please remember we're not teen-agers, Ann. I need some smart advice. —MARIA

Dear Maria: Someone ought to start an organization called "Temptation Anonymous" for gals who are on the verge of doing something foolish. It would be wonderful if you could call up a friend who would come over and sit with you until your brains became unclouded.

"No" is one of the most effective words in the language, and I urge you to keep saying it until he asks you to marry him. The woman who is interested in the long haul should beware of short trips.

Dear Ann Landers: Last week my wife's mother and three other relatives (hers), plus our family of four, went out to dinner. When the waitress brought the check my mother-in-law took it right out of my hands. My mother-in-law is a good-hearted person but she is extremely domineering and has grabbed checks out of my hands before. When she does this I feel like a cross between a 7-year-old child and an out-of-work nebbish.

If you have a solution to this problem I'd like to hear it. —WILLING TO PAY

Dear Willing: Tell your mother-in-law that if she joins you for dinner at "your" invitation she is "your" guest and you want no debate over the check.

If you and your family are HER guests, suggest that she arrange in advance so that the check is not brought to the table. She can slip away quietly while the coffee is being served and pay it unobserved.

Dear Ann Landers: I could kiss you for telling the world that more wives handle the pocketbook than husbands and that they usually do a better job.

We've had the problem in our family for years and I've been begging for a chance to handle the family finances. After my husband read that column he agreed to hand over his check beginning with the next one, and see what I can do. I can tell you now I couldn't do much worse than he has done. We've gotten so low at times that we've had to borrow milk money from the baby's piggy bank.

I've been fighting for this chance for 14 years and couldn't get to first base. And now you come along and do the trick with three sentences.

Our Enemies Roar; Where Are Our Friends?

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON (NEA)—Making strong impact upon this capital is the astonishing thinness of the verbal defenses being raised in Southeast Asia on behalf of the United States.

The play is going to the mat, throwing, jeering demonstrators who respond with mindless efficiency at the touch of a Communist button, and to those more thoughtful people who nevertheless see either nearly total error or evil purpose, or both, in the course this country is following.

In the worst of it, Americans are assassins, imperialists, neo-colonialists. In milder vein, we are stupid or misguided meddlers in other people's affairs; we are vastly over-extended in our efforts to help other nations around the world; we are blithely indifferent to the need for negotiating—in insistent, instead, upon "bombing Asians" in a way sure to bring on a wider war.

Where, some men in government are asking, are the voices here and abroad to proclaim that there is another side to this story?

Our too-silent defenders could begin by running up the list of real postwar imperialists, great and petty, who have been fraudulently dressing their larger-than-national designs in the language of the developing people's legitimate aspirations.

The new imperialists are, of course, dominated by the men in Moscow and Peking. Even the most glib in the emerging nations sometimes take fright when they glimpse occasionally the naked crudity of the purpose of those men.

The petty imitators who fill out the roster of today's imperialists must inevitably include Sukarno of Indonesia, Nasser of Egypt, Ben Bella of Algeria, Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam, Castro of Cuba.

Not one of these leaders confines himself to advancing the legitimate aspirations of his own people. All are engaged in one kind or another of mischief-making for which there is no warrant in international law and morality.

Even if they never offered a word of communism's patent fakery, these small caliber imperialists would, in their callous misuse of honest human concern for betterment, stand convicted of unrivaled hypocrisy and cynicism.

To those in Asia, Africa, Latin America who wish to resist this ugly new imperialism, the United States is today almost the only firm respondent.

It has thrown its men and its resources into the manifold tasks of resistance around the globe with a rough-and-ready nobility that is without precedent in human history.

Twenty years ago this country ended World War II as a triumphant world power almost completely uninitiated in the complexities of world leadership. Events thrust it to the free world's pinnacle.

Green at the game, being as much a collection of imperfect human beings as any other nation, America has sometimes lost its footing at the peak of power. It has oversteered a military response, or been obsessed with communism as the "only enemy," or failed to understand the people it sought to help.

Even in a stable period of history, a nation newly come to leadership would surely commit many mistakes.

But America's rise to stewardship is part of an incredible triple juncture in history. The other two forces meeting it are the revolution of the underprivileged and subject peoples, and the push of the militant new imperialists, big and little, to exploit these peoples for their own grasping purpose.

Today's sideline sitters, Britain and France, are quick with advice for us. Yet their 20th century record, bracketing the two great wars, hardly tells of distinctive triumph—either in perpetually troubled Europe or the stirring continents beyond. France's ineptitude in Indochina gave us the almost hopeless legacy with which we struggle in South Viet Nam right now.

America makes mistakes. It may try to do too much. But it acts with steady bravery and unparalleled vigor to advance humanity's best causes.

In a moment of crisis when clamoring world pictures of this country are of a wicked assassin or a stumbling giant, it is fair to ask:

"Where are the others who say they share humanity's great goals?"

in Hollywood

By JAMES BACON

DURANGO, Mexico (AP)—It's an amazing sight to see Dean Martin, one of Hollywood's great swingers, languishing in this quiet Mexican mountain town.

"Man," says Dean, "the only action here is drinking margaritas (a tequila cocktail) and playing hearts. I'm in bed every night at 9:30."

"Henry Hathaway, our director, works us from moondown to moon-up."

Dino is costarring with John Wayne in "Sons of Katie Elder."

It's the first time he has worked in January and February, but he believes his best screen work yet was opposite Wayne in "Rio Bravo," so:

"I couldn't pass up another chance to act with old Duke, even though I missed the Bing Crosby Tournament and the Bob Hope Desert Classic, also the Los Angeles Open."

Dean spends much of his time telling people how he eats with the pigs.

One of the locations is at a nearby Indian village. Pigs, chickens, burros roam freely around the set.

"Everytime I sit down to eat," says Dean, "the pigs walk past, everybody and head straight for me."

Dean is riding high on the record charts. His "Everybody Loves Somebody" even passed the Beatles.

"Just the other day, Jim Bowen from Reprise Records called me to congratulate me on a new album called 'Sleep on My Pillow' or something like that. It had sold 100,000 copies the first week."

"I told him I don't even remember making it but I was glad it was doing well anyway."

FINDING THE WAY

Ban Fear of Shadows

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

In our part of the country, people talked about the ground-hog seeing his shadow just a month ago. We wanted to be seeing the tips of tulips and daffodils by this time but there was that shadow to frighten off spring. It's just a legend, but then people are influenced by such things. Perhaps a part of the cold wintry hatred of mankind is simply that we are frightened by our own shadows!

"I have a little shadow That goes in and out with me. And what can be the use of him Is more than I can see."

I join Robert Louis Stevenson in that comment. The truth is that shadows have connoted fright. The lengthened shadow of Hitler fell across mankind. A British commentator said the other day that this year had begun under the shadow of the deaths of T. S. Eliot and Winston Churchill. It's the awareness that there is a fright in some shadows, either of the hatred that comes or the greatness that goes.

There's also the refreshment of the shadow. The shadow of a mighty rock in a weary land or the shadow of the valley where the heat wasn't quite as destroying have lured men through the ages. To those who have a profound sense of purpose in their lives there's the awareness of a sustaining strength "even in the valley of the shadow of death."

Shadows are possible because of the bright light that shines. That's why institutions are really the lengthened shadows of those who live brilliantly. That's as true for the individual who feels of little consequence as it is for the world's great personalities. That's why it's a tragedy to hole up, pretending that there can be no spring.

I remember one of those pencil-thin teen-agers who was described to me as being so slim that in his tight clothing he wouldn't even cast a shadow. Some of us live so thinly that there's no bulk or substance to our lives, no shadow to cast, and nothing to carry on the tradition and the high hopes.

Already there are the evidences of spring, even in the northlands. There's a difference in the shadows and maybe a new certitude of the meaning of our relationships.

There's a great prayer out of the distant shadows, that needs to be restated in our contemporary existence.

"O Lord, support us all the day long until the shadows lengthen and the evening is come, and the busy world is hushed, and the fever of life is over, and our work is done. Then in thy mercy grant us a safe lodging and a holy rest, and peace at the last."

But until the shadows lengthen, let there be the awareness of sustaining guidance in the thick of things and the courage never to be frightened by our own shadow!

But if we are so horrified that we can't see his horror, we are bound to pounce on him with such wrathful accusation that he has to lie to us. He's got to disown any responsibility for the results of his smoking, not because he doesn't want to take it but because our wrath has made the responsibility too awful to accept.

When a child refuses to tell us the truth about some behavior of which he is guilty, it is always wise to ask our young George with wrathful questions about it. "Have I contributed to this his cherry tree, he might have just quietly asked, 'Is there any connection between your new hatchet and this cut-down cherry tree?'"

You see, the more awful we make a child's misbehavior appear, the harder we make it for him to say, "It's mine. I did it."

I'm not minimizing the naughtiness of a 10-year-old's smoking nor the carelessness which left burning cigarette isn't ready for it.

And when I've got it, use his experience of premature smoking to make the point that he isn't ready for it.

And when I've got it, use his experience of premature smoking to make the point that he isn't ready for it.

No AF Academy Diet

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Q—What is the Air Force Academy low carbohydrate diet in the face I hear so much about? Where do I write to get a copy?

A—Contrary to widespread misunderstanding, there is no such thing as an official Air Force Academy low carbohydrate diet. We asked Maj. Gen. Richard L. Bohannon, surgeon general of the U.S. Air Force, about this diet plan. But it is not about this. He replied, "There is no official Air Force diet."

Q—A friend of mine claims he has lost 17 pounds in five weeks on a new low carbohydrate diet. Do you recommend a low carbohydrate diet?

A—We asked two leading nutritionists to comment on the sudden rage for low carbohydrate diets. Dr. Philip S. White, Council on Food and Nutrition, American Medical Assn., reports that this is a new version of an old diet, publicized every year or so. Over the past generation it has appeared as the Stettinson diet, Holiday Diet, Dupont Diet, and the "Calorie Don't Count" diet.

Now it is falsely called the Air Force Academy Diet, and the national woman's magazine has just introduced another version of the same thing. There is no new paperback, published in San Francisco, called "The Drinking Man's Diet." It's low carbohydrate diet in its many variations flies in the face of known biological principles." Dr. White adds.

The chairman of Harvard University's Department of Nutrition, Fredrick J. Stare, M.D., Ph.D., commented, "I have no doubt that your friend lost 17 pounds in five weeks by following this diet plan. But it is not a very intelligent way to diet. It makes it easy to consume a diet that is poor in providing adequate nutrition. I am quite certain that six months from now your friend will have regained his 17 pounds."

So it is with the resurrection of the dead. What is sown is perishable, what is raised is imperishable. —1 Cor. 15:12.

State Hog Production Doubles In 40 Years; Nets Fifth Of Income

Hog production in Illinois has doubled in the past 40 years and has been growing faster in the state than in the nation as a whole.

L. H. Simerl, University of Illinois policy and outlook specialist, reports in the winter issue of ILLINOIS RESEARCH that Illinois farmers rank second among the nation's hog producers, with receipts from hog sales averaging $440 million a year. These sales provide one-fifth of all cash receipts from all agricultural marketings.

Simerl says that Illinois farmers boosted their share of the nation's hog business from 3.2 percent in 1929 to 14 percent in 1964. Growth was steady with two exceptions. One exceptional period was in the mid-1930s, when production was drastically reduced because severe droughts cut corn crops. The second period was during World War II, when surplus corn and wheat stocks were used to produce more pork to increase food supplies for civilian and military personnel.

Simerl notes that there is still an important seasonal pattern of hog prices, even though farmers are now spreading hog sales more evenly throughout the year. During the past six years, hog prices have varied little from November through May, but have risen sharply in June and July. They have then declined slowly until November.

The summer price increase reflects small market receipts, which result from fewer winter sow farrowings, Simerl says. Some farmers can take advantage of the seasonal variations in hog prices by planning

Jersey People Feeding Quail, Mourning Doves

JERSEYVILLE — The deep snow in the Jersey county vicinity covered most of the natural food supply for game birds of the area, and a number of local sportsmen began putting out grain in selected spots for quail, doves and winter birds Thursday morning.

Winter feeding is practiced where there is natural protective cover from enemy factors of the various species. Observers report there has been a shortage of natural feeds in this part of Illinois due to the summer and autumn drought of 1964 which cut the growth of weed seed plants.

Observers report there is a fair carry over this winter of quail in the Jersey county area, much more they state than after the hunting season of 1963. The dove carry over they declare is not so encouraging in this locality. The current winter has witnessed but few mourning doves remaining in the locality. In one spot where doves usually winter, only three birds have been counted during frequent checks compared to twenty-seven often counted last February.

Morgan Bowlers In I.A.A. Meet

Fred Hill and Eldon Oyler will represent Morgan county in the annual state bowling contest sponsored by the Illinois Agricultural Association. It will be held Tuesday, March 9, at the Strike n' Spare in Springfield.

Hill, manager of the LP gas division of the Morgan county Service Co., stands 8th in the state at the present time, with a 527 tally in the open class men's division.

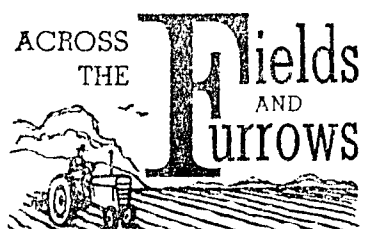

Oyler, retired Jacksonville expressman who lives in Chatham but retains his membership in the Morgan Farm Bureau, stands fifth in the present ratings of the state with a 521 in the "over 65" division.

There were 24 Morgan county competitors in the regional meet held in Springfield Feb. 12. They rolled in the morning.

"At noon Morgan county stood high, with six 1st place positions and one 2nd place," Organization Director John Chambers said Friday as he reviewed the final standings.

"Then Macon and Christian county rolled in the afternoon and just rolled us off the board."

A FAMILIAR MELODY!

Reprint of an Editorial in the Pike County Republican, Pittsfield, Illinois.

As we listened to President Johnson's state of the Union speech we seemed to detect a faint bit of background music. It seemed strange, coming from the hallowed halls of Congress, and—true enough—it was only our imagination. Still the melody lingered on as we continued to listen.

We heard the President outline the blueprint of the Great Society where the arts will flourish, poverty is banished, the air is sweet, the water is pure, everyone has a job and is well educated, sickness and crime are no more, taxes are cut, waste in Government is eliminated, the deficit disappears, inflation is curbed.

Still the musical refrain continued to haunt us. Then it came to us. It was the folk song Burl Ives used to sing about the big rock candy mountain where grew the lemonade tree and where the hens laid soft boiled eggs.

Union Stock Yards Centennial

The Union Stock Yards in Chicago as they appeared in 1866.

Calling the 100 year life of the Chicago Union Stock Yards the "longest continuous county fair," a feature article by Charles R. Koch in the spring issue of The Farm Quarterly traces the history of that leader among the terminal markets, from the issuance of its charter in February, 1865, down to the present.

Before the construction of the Union Stock Yards, livestock trading in Chicago was handled at almost a dozen scattered locations. This was a cause of considerable confusion and inconvenience for all concerned and led to the packers and the railroads finally getting together with a group of interested Chicago businessmen and purchasing a 325 acre tract on the South Side which is still the location of the big yards.

The swampy area was drained, pens and alleys were laid out, an exchange and hotel were constructed, and by Christmas of the year of its charter the market was in operation. It has been in operation every business day since then despite fires, war, disease, panic and depression.

The Big Fire
The big stock yards fire which started on a Saturday afternoon in May, 1934, caused damage to the extent of $8 million, and completely destroyed the Exchange Building, the Stock Yard Inn and the International Amphitheater. But on the following Monday it was business as usual as incoming consignments of stock were received and commissionmen and buyers went ahead with their trading activities.

During World War I the dread foot-and-mouth disease struck the yards. It was fought with every recommended practice. Infected or exposed animals

INCREASE IN CATTLE NUMBERS IS HALTED

Our nation's cattlemen got good news in mid-February: THE BIG INCREASE IN BEEF CATTLE NUMBERS THAT BEGAN IN 1958 WAS ALMOST STOPPED DURING THE PAST YEAR.

There was some increase in 1964, but it was only about enough to meet the usual increase in consumer demand for beef.

This development had been expected, but it was reassuring to see it confirmed by the USDA in its annual inventory of livestock on January 1.

Now let's check some of the details.

The report shows that farmers and ranchers had 107.2 million cattle and calves on hand at the first of this year. This number was less than 1/2 percent more than a year before.

This small increase contrasts sharply with the situation in the previous six years, during which cattle numbers increased 18 percent.

Those figures are for all cattle, including dairy herds. The figures for beef cattle alone are more important than total cattle numbers to the nation's ranchers and cattle feeders.

Few more beef cattle. The number of beef cattle on hand at the first of this year was estimated at 80.3 million head. This number was 1 1/2 percent more than a year earlier. It was just equal to the increase in population during 1964.

The 1 1/2 percent increase in numbers of beef cattle in 1964 was quite moderate in comparison with that of the previous six years. During that period the nation's beef cattle herd increased by a whopping 36 percent. That's why we got the big flood of beef and lower cattle prices in 1963 and 1964.

Fewer steers. Here's another important figure: On January 1 there were 11.9 million steers over one year old, 5 percent less than a year earlier. This reduction is not great, but it contrasts sharply with the increase of 36 percent in the six years ended a year ago.

were shot in the pens: ditches were dug across the alleys and filled with disinfectant and all yards workers and wagons were required to walk, or drive, through these footbaths on entering or leaving. were soaked with disinfectant. Still, business went on as usual. Cash in hand

F.F.A. Parents-Son, Awards Banquet Held Tuesday Night

Despite Tuesday evening's harsh snowstorm 165 persons attended the annual Jacksonville Future Farmers of America Parents & Son banquet held at Jonathan Baldwin Turner school.

Present were 45 members, 90 parents and 30 guests, including District 117 board of education members, the high school administrative staff, faculty and special guests.

Among the latter were Mike McElvain, 17, of Bushnell-Prairie City high school and the Illinois State F.F.A. reporter, who gave the principal address on the future of agriculture and Kenny Bettis, 19, of Carlinville, vice president of Section 15 and District III, Illinois F.F.A.

William T. Fortschneider, chapter adviser, presented the following Illinois F.F.A. Foundation awards:

Chapter Star Farmer — Tom Hembrough.

Corn Production — Tom Hembrough.

Crop Farming — Tom Hembrough.

Farm Mechanics — Roy Maul.

Beef Production — Larry Martin.

Swine Production — Larry Martin.

Livestock Farming — Larry Martin.

Sheep Production — David Middleton.

Poultry Production — Don Homer.

Soybean Production — John Hembrough.

Small Grain Production — Steve Lakin.

Extemporaneous Speaking — Tom Hembrough.

Prepared Speaking — Larry Martin.

Highest Scholarship for the Year — John Cox. (a freshman).

The Section 15 awards went to Larry Martin for swine production and to Steve Lakin for small grain production. They and ranches January 1 was listed at 25.1 million, also 2 percent more than the year before. In the six years before 1964, the number of calves kept for beef increased 34 percent.

Beef cow numbers were listed at 32.9 million, another gain of 2 percent. Cow numbers had increased 32 percent from the first of 1958 to the first of 1964.

Slaughter climbs. The cyclical buildup in cattle numbers, which began in 1956, was braked to a near stop by big increases in slaughter in 1963 and 1964. Commercial slaughter of cattle jumped from 26.1 million in 1962 to 31.4 million in 1964. Earlier in 1959 cattle slaughter was only 22.9 million. The increase from 1959 to 1964 was 37 percent. During this same five years, population increased less than 8 percent.

The supply of beef increased from 81 pounds per person in 1959 to about 102 pounds in 1964 for a rise of 26 percent in just four years.

Cattle slaughter and beef output may increase further. But the increases will be small unless extreme and widespread drought forces heavy liquidation of cattle on farms and ranches.

U.I. Ag Guest Day Saturday In Urbana

High school seniors interested in attending the U.I. College of Agriculture are invited to visit the Urbana campus March 6.

Registration will begin at 8:30 a.m. The welcome will be extended by Dr. Karl E. Gardner, associate dean of the college, and C. D. Smith, assistant dean, will discuss admission requirements, costs, scholarships and housing.

In the afternoon the visitors will inspect the laboratories and classrooms and meet faculty members in the various schools in which they are particularly interested.

The Morgan County Extension service has transportation available for eleven prospective students and parents, and additional transportation can be arranged in case of need. All seniors interested in either agriculture or home economics who wish to attend "Guest Day" are invited to call the local Extension office.

Cites Greater Need For Rural Doctors

Fifty-nine doctors are practicing in rural Illinois towns as a result of a program sponsored jointly by the Illinois Agricultural Association and the Illinois State Medical Society. The program — the medical student loan fund — was established in 1943 to encourage young men to become general practitioners and to locate in communities that have a shortage of doctors.

"The need for doctors in rural communities was great when the student loan program was established," said Roy E. Will, IAA assistant secretary and secretary of the medical student loan committee. "However, the need for general practitioners in small towns is even greater today. The number of new doctors locating in rural communities is not keeping pace with the number of small town physicians retiring from practice." Thirty-one loan fund program participants are currently at an Illinois community of 5,000 population or less for five years or are serving as interns or are after receiving formal training, in military service.

Farmers Ponder Annual Puzzle: Sign Up, Or Not

Between now and the March 26 deadline, Illinois farmers will be deciding whether or not to sign up for the 1965 Feed Grain Program.

Duane E. Erickson, University of Illinois extension economist in farm management, outlines the general provisions of the 1965 program in the following questions and answers. He suggests that farmers see their farm advisers or ASCS representatives if they have further questions about the program.

What Major Changes in the 1965 Feed Grain Program Affect Illinois Farmers?

One change that affects Illinois farmers is the change in the price support payment for corn from 15 to 20 cents a bushel. The Wheat-Feed Grain Substitution Provision affects farmers who signed up for the 1965 Wheat Program last fall and who also sign up for the 1965 Feed Grain Program. The average normal yield of corn is now based on the 1959-1963 period.

How Are Diversion Payments Per Acre Determined Under the 1965 Program?

Three diversion payment combinations are made. The first 20 percent rate is one-fifth of the county support price times the normal yield per acre. For diverting more than 20 percent, the diversion payment is a combination of the minimum payment on the first 20 percent and the maximum diversion payment for acreage above 20 percent and below 40 percent diverted. The maximum diversion rate is one-half of the county support price times the normal yield. All acres diverted from the corn base above the 40 percent level receive payments at the maximum diversion rate.

What Makes Up the Total Price Support for Corn?

The U. S. average total price support on corn is $1.25 a bushel. Of this amount, the loan rate is $1.05 and the price support payment is 20 cents, paid on the normal yield on acres produced in the Feed Grain Program. The Illinois total price support

Prayer Poem—

Courageous Boy

By Mary Pence Claywell

I met a "Teen-age" lad today.
Obedient... to the "rule."
He told me of his studies.
And all about... his school.
He wasn't like, what some believe.
Not rough, or wild, or loud...
And neither, was he, coward enough.
To join a "ruffian" crowd:
He said, "Some call me 'chicken'."
But it doesn't bother me...
To cheating, crime, or dangerous stunts.
I never do... agree!
In every worth-while thing we find,
At home, at play, or school,
It's better, far... to chicken out,
Than to act like... we're a fool:
Lead, Thou, Dear Lord, this worthy lad,
And help us spread the news,
Of his weakness when we join the crowd,
And courage to refusal!

Let's Go Birding

Who Wins As Reddest Bird?

By Emma Mae Leonhard

Nature rarely flaunts her reds. Cardinal Flower blooms its best in the shade of trees and dead wood away from the beaten path. The ruby throat of the humming bird or the ruby patch on the head of the Ruby-crowned Kinglet flashes so fast that we rarely see it. The scarlet-cup mushroom is hidden under a log.

Yet we have four species of birds that are more red than any other color; they actually seem to rival one another in their brilliant reds. It would be difficult to award objectively the prize to the reddest one; perhaps sentiment and the bird's surroundings would help the decision.

These four contestants for the prize of being the reddest are the Cardinal, the Scarlet Tanager, the Summer Tanager, and the Vermilion Flycatcher, three of which can be seen in our own territory sometimes during the year. To which contestant will we grant the winning ribbon?

On a winter morning when our world is snow-bound and the brilliant Cardinal defies the hard cold whiteness of its own world, we would undoubtedly and immediately answer, "Our Cardinal must be the reddest bird alive!"

Scarlet Tanager
Then in May when the Scarlet Tanager, a scarlet bird with ink-black wings, a "bird of fire," flies into the tops of our green trees, we may involuntarily gasp, "That's the most gorgeous, the reddest bird I've ever seen."

Occasionally this tanager may be a bright rose-red all over. Then we shall be gazing at the Summer Tanager, that also visits us in the spring—a rival to the Scarlet Tanager in its redness.

Arizona Beauty
Before we try to award the prize, we must be fair. How does the Vermilion Flycatcher line up with our own three red birds? This bird does not visit our territory. As we were driving through New Mexico and Arizona in January, on several occasions we were lucky enough to see this flaming vermilion bird with a black back.

It was so tame and friendly that we had no difficulty in watching its flycatcher antics. A pair had taken over a marshy pond; they perched on the low bare branches of the trees, dropped down toward the water, and returned to the same branches to enjoy the insects which they had caught.

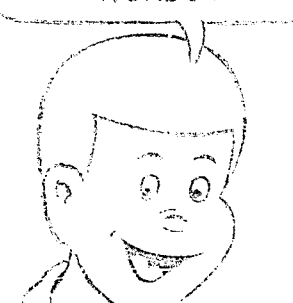

One Vermilion Flycatcher sat in all its glory on a telephone wire. Another one played along a fence row and perched on a post not more than fifteen feet from us. We returned home, with the brilliance of the Vermilion Flycatcher painted upon our bird pictures.

Which bird has won the prize for being the reddest bird? We cast our ballot now for the Vermilion Flycatcher, but we might, in time, submit a tie with our beloved Cardinal.

Rockets And Space - Space Age Benefits

By Walter B. Hendrickson, Jr.

As the space age continues, the benefits we receive will increase. For example, the first test satellites to provide continuous television for the entire earth have already been launched. This network will be made up of three satellites orbiting 22,300 miles above the equator. At this height they will take 24 hours to circle earth and so will never disappear over the horizon—as the Telstar type relay satellites do in their lower orbits.

One satellite of this network, Syncom III, shown above, is already in orbit over the Pacific. It was used to relay the Olympic games from Tokyo, Japan, in 1964.

A similar network of weather satellites is planned to keep a constant eye out for storms.

Surgery With Light Beam
The continuing space age will also produce even more useful by-products. One of these is the Laser, which has been used to bounce a light beam off the Moon, and is now being used to track rockets and satellites. On earth, the Laser has been used for delicate eye surgery.

Soon the Laser will become even more important. An improved version is being designed to relieve the over-crowded telephone lines. This will mean that we won't have to wait for an open line so often when we make a long distance phone call.

How a Laser works is described, rather scientifically, by its name which means Light Amplification by Stimulated Emission. In a Laser a white neon lamp is flashed into a ruby rod or a tube of helium and neon. This causes the red or blue tube to give out a beam of red light. Being all one color, the waves of light in this beam fit together so closely that they travel to the moon and back—over 435,000 miles—without varying more than a few feet. The Laser light beam can be made to carry messages in the same way that the light of a

HAPPY EVER AFTER

There is no time at all to weep
Way down where the ocean's deep.
The plants and animals are all so busy.
They're almost always in a tizzy!

We first of all come to the squid, See! There it is... Oh dear, it hid!
Well, anyway it's very gruesome And sometimes travels in a twosome.

We'll travel on and a sponge we'll see
It resembles neither you nor me.

The sponge gets fat from eating lichen,
And then it's used in Mother's kitchen.

The coral is the next thing on the list.
And you can hold it in your fist.
Very plentiful is this creature,
Though it has no outstanding feature.

And last but not least is the sea anemone.
It's not shaped like a box, or a ring, or a cone.

The "blossom of the sea" it's often called,
And at its beauty you'd be appalled.

So now we end our little tour,
Of all the creatures and their allure.

And as we hear their merry
pily ever after.

BEAUTIFUL SEA

The sea I know very well.
The creatures and the pretty shells.
The seaweed floats at the water's edge
Where I look on it from upon a ledge.
There is water as far as you can see
That is what is beautiful to

AT THE SEA

At the sea there are so many kinds of creatures.
They each have their own special features.
There are boats afloat, and sea gulls that cry out notes.
And the tides that go in and out.

So if you happen to go to the sea,
All these things you will see.

Little Sea Creatures

Down on the beach when out goes the sea,
There are many little creatures, hidden from you and me.

With a little spout such as a

Down by the sea as the tide comes in,
All the creatures will hide

OCEAN AND SEA

When I go walking (down by the seashore)
I hear the ocean talking (down by the seashore)
A scuttleship here, an oyster there
The ocean has many wonders to share (down by the seashore).

The ocean is made up of many things
icious things.
They may be good, they may be bad.
They may be happy, they may be sad —

Whether good or whether bad,
Whether happy or whether sad,
They always do best where they belong.

SEA DREAMS

What do I think of when I think of the sea?
O fish and shells and summertime glee,
Of whales and seaweed and ships with sails,
And swimmers and surfers and children with pails,
Of sailors, ice bergs, and thick
dense fog,
Waves with white caps and a driftwood log.

These things I think of when I think of the sea.
Although, I've never seen it except in T.V.

WHAT'D YOU EXPECT

Have you ever seen the sea?
Oh! It's much larger than you or me!
It's full of many creatures.
The fish even have school teachers!

Of course you know of the razor clam.
This ones name happens to be Sam.

Have you ever met a finger

But what can you expect from

City Dog Pound

By John Rankin

It was a cold, stormy night when ten-year-old Eddie Jordan settled down in a big armchair before the television set in the living room. The wind howled fiercely outside and tiny grains of sleet rattled off the window panes as the worst blizzard of the season raged on.

Dad came in and took a chair by the reading desk. "The worst sleet storm of the year, son, and cold too," he declared. "Did you fix Don up with plenty of fresh bedding for the night?"

Eddie looked up quickly.
"Mom thought of a better plan for him," he replied. "She was afraid Don would be cold out in his kennel so we brought him in and fixed him a bed in the basement by the furnace."

Dad nodded his approval, and added, "I feel for man or beast that must face the elements on a night like this."

Lost Child?
Moments later Mom came dripping in from the kitchen.
"I keep hearing crying sounds at the back door," she almost whispered. "I'm afraid it might be a lost child."

Dad and Eddie jumped up and followed Mom into the kitchen.
"Probably the wind, or maybe a stray cat," Dad shrugged as he switched on the porch light and opened the door.

In a flash a small black and white pup of about four months or so brushed in with his tail tucked dejectedly between his legs and his long shaggy coat glazed with ice. His teeth chattered and his small body shivered violently from the cold.

Eddie dropped to his knees and began stroking the unfortunate pup gently. "You poor little guy," he muttered softly.
"You're plenty wet and nearly frozen, and probably hungry too."

Hungry Puppy
Mom tossed Eddie a towel. She "Dry him off good while I fix some warm milk," she urged.

a place for the poor thing to sleep."

began scrubbing the pup briskly.

So this is the end of my tale
Of a fish, of a cave,
Of a mermaid, and a snail!

Civil War--100 Years Ago

Incidents In South Carolina

Two incidents — one of them important enough to win the high praise of General William T. Sherman and the other strange enough to dumbfound him — happened to our boys in the 101st Illinois Infantry.

The precise date cannot be determined, because "the old soldiers" couldn't agree just when it happened. But most of them said it was "just before we went into North Carolina," which would put it at about 100 years ago this week.

As the Union army waded through the flooded swamps of South Carolina the Confederates tried to slow down its progress by burning bridges. This suited Sherman to the proverbial T, because he had no idea of re-treating and he had three splendid pioneer-pontoon boat units, one for each of his three advancing corps. These units had the right of way over everything, even an ambulance, and they could usually bridge a big creek or river in less time than it took the rebels to burn the original bridge.

One Squad Short
But he had only three bridge squads.

Scouts told him that there was still a good bridge, located just right for the newly formed column, but that the rebels had it pretty well soaked with turpentine and was ready to burn it upon the approach of the Yankees.

Sherman wanted that bridge. He ordered the Morgan county men to leave everything except their rifles and 80 rounds of ammunition, make a forced 35 mile march at night and take and hold the bridge.

A Negro on a mule was to act as guide.

By this time the 101st was down to 200 men, a mighty big drop from the aggregate strength of 911 when the regiment left Jacksonville in October, 1862.

Let's quote from the war memoirs of Corporal Robert B. Wallace of Co. E:

One evening after marching all day we had gone into camp and gone to bed and soon after we were called out and Col. LeSage told us the scouts had reported a bridge over a stream on the road that was held by a force of rebels with turpentine in barrels and cotton balls, ready to burn it.

General Sherman wanted that bridge. It was thirty-five miles to it and we were asked to go and by daylight take and save the bridge. We left our knapsacks in camp to be sent to us by team the next day.

We started about 10 o'clock at night and we sure went. We got the bridge just at break of day, captured some of their pickets and swept the bridge with a volley. A battery had followed us and they came up, threw a few shells after the flying Johnnies, and we kicked the cotton balls they had fixed off the bridge into the water and the bridge was ours.

We lay there all that day. Late in the day the advance of the brigade came up with our goods and we sure spent the night sleeping.

Heading the column that day was the 101st regimental wagon pulled by four mules under the command of an Irishman by the name of Tim. By 1928 our boys couldn't agree on his last name. Some of them said he was from "the patch" in north Jacksonville and some of them said that he was from Buckhorn. They all thought that after the war Tim had gone to Utah to work on the railroad and that he had been killed there.

According to the rule of rotation the 101st was to bring up the rear the following day. Our boys continued to lay in camp as the column filed by and crossed the bridge. General Sherman and his staff rode up and sincerely thanked the colonel and the regiment for their fine work.

Blocked The Road
Finally it came Tim's turn to take the tailend of the file. He got in line, but there he and his long-eared charges came to a definite halt.

It was obvious the wagon wasn't stuck. There wasn't much in it besides a few days' rations of bread and bacon and coffee, plus a sizeable amount of rifle ammunition.

Times had been lean for the 101st through the swamps and the pine barrens of central South Carolina. There was little use trying to forage for food, because the few inhabitants of the area lived in chronic hunger. It was a long ways from the fat pastures, granaries and smoke-houses the boys had enjoyed in their march through Georgia the previous fall.

Worst of all, they had run out of tobacco and had been out for more than a week. The other Morgan county men, in the 10th and 14th regiments, were in the right wing and had all the tobacco they could possibly use.

Tim and his wagon sat in the road, blocking it.

Sherman Asks Why
Sherman rode over to investigate. He could see that the wagon was on firm ground and that the mules and driver seemed to be in good health.

So he asked, "Why are you holding up the line?"

Tim replied, "Hell, Uncle Billy, I ain't had a chew for more than a week and you know a man can't drive mules without tobacco."

Sherman thought this over for a moment and then turned to one of his junior officers and said, "Lieutenant, give this private some tobacco."

Tim bit off an enormous chunk, wallowed it around for a moment or two, spit, shook out the lines, gave the mules an individual and all-around cussing, and away they went.

HUMORS of the war

Two German inventors announce they have discovered a scheme for making wine without grapes. Now that the prices of meat are so high, why don't our scientific men find out some way of making beef without oxen.

Why is a clock the most modest piece of furniture? Because it covers its face with its hands and runs down its own works.

News, Views Century Ago

From the Jacksonville Journal: WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY — The 22d, inst., was observed by most of our merchants and business men by closing their stores and shops during the afternoon. It is well that those who love their country should hold in sacred memory the birth-day of the Father of Our Country.

A DAY OF REJOICING — It has been proposed, and arrangements are accordingly being made by our leading citizens, to make Saturday next, the 4th of March, a day of re-joicing over late Union victories, and in honor of the inauguration of President Lincoln. The day will be observed as a jubilee all over the country.

We understand that our business-men generally have agreed to close their stores and shops in the afternoon, and the meeting in Strawn's Hall to commence at one o'clock, Jacob Strawn, Esq., to preside.

SMALL POX — As there seems to be some alarm, and considerable uneasiness among our citizens, on account of a report which has gained prevalence that the small pox is a visitant in several families in this city, we deem it our duty to allay needless fear, to thus publicly state that there is NO TRUTH in the report. Several aggravated cases of chicken pox do exist, but there are no cases of small pox in Jacksonville.

GONE TO THE WAR — Napoleon B. Walker, a late attaché of this office, has just been appointed Quartermaster of the 155th Reg. Ill. Vols. This makes ten volunteers for the army from the JOURNAL office, and now that we have sent Napoleon we challenge a comparison of records with any other TWENTY-EIGHT column paper of the country.

The construction of the new Government arsenal at Rock Island, Ill., will be commenced immediately. It will cost $1,500,000 and will be one of the largest structures of the kind in the world.

From the Jacksonville Sentinel: DRAFT MEETING — A public meeting of the citizens of this precinct will be held at Strawn's Hall to-morrow at one o'clock, for the purpose of making a final effort to make up the quota for this precinct. Jacob Strawn will preside over the meeting.

APPROPRIATIONS — The last session of the Illinois legislature appropriated $1,192,000, including $75,000 for the East wing of the Insane Asylum and $240,000 for the maintenance of the state institutions in Jacksonville.

The aggregate amount fearfully exceeds any of the appropriations made in former years, and many of the items have about them the clear ring of shoddy. For instance, $4,000 are appropriated to Governor Oglesby to pay the hire of a gardener at the Governor's mansion, and the item of $175,000 for the printing of the session is enormous.

NOTICE — The directors of the Jacksonville Gas, Light and Coke company give notice that from and after the first of March next, the charge for Gas will be five dollars per thousand cubic feet and Government tax, and no charge for rent of meters as heretofore.

It is proper that our customers should have some knowledge of the embarrassment of the company has had to content, and the utter impossibility of furnishing gas at the present price. When the Co. commenced lighting the town, 1858, and for several years thereafter, coal was $30 per car, and now $70; lime 28 cts. per bushel; now 65 cts.; all other materials and labor have correspondingly increased. (ADV.)

From the Carrollton Gazette: On Monday last the remains of John Carlin was taken through town to the residence of his mother for interment in the family burying grounds. He, it will be remembered, was shot near this place last fall, and has since been under guard at Camp Butler, but has been gradually sinking from the effects of his wounds, until death at last ended his career on earth.

The mud for some days past has been a great obstruction to travel, but we are in hopes there will be an improvement shortly. Notwithstanding, the mud does not prevent us receiving our mails.

FOREIGN

The French papers, official and semi-official give it up at last that the condition of the Confederacy is desperate, and they have got over calling Sherman's march through Georgia a "forced retreat." On the contrary, they admit his march to be one of the most extraordinary feats in military history, and put him down in the list of the great Generals in the world.

A safety play is one designed to guarantee or improve your chance of making your contract at the possible expense of an extra trick or so.

Safety plays are primarily for use in rubber bridge, but a match point player should avail himself of them any time he thinks he is in a good contract or has received a favorable opening lead.

South's no-trump was slightly irregular in that he held a six-card suit. Normally, the opening no-trump is only made with 4-3-3-3, 4-4-3-2, or 5-3-3-2 distribution, but many players will also open with 6-3-3-2 and stoppers in all the short suits.

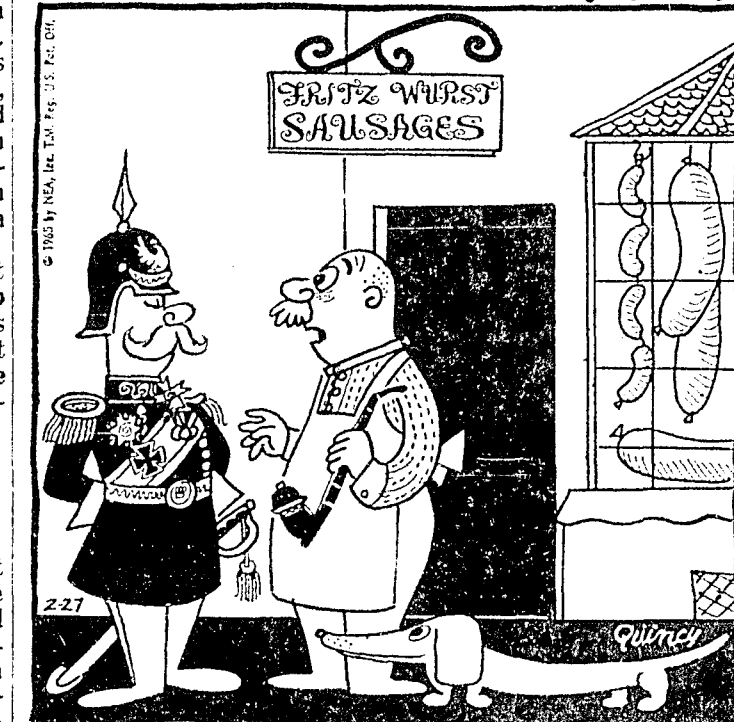

South led the opening heart lead right around to his king and looked things over carefully. If he could run the whole club suit, he would make 11 or 12 tricks. If he had to lose one club trick, as was likely, he would only make nine. On the gloomy side of the picture, if clubs broke 4-0 and South played the wrong top club on the first lead of the suit, he would not make his contract.

There was a perfect safety play at his disposal. Was it worth-while?

South decided that it was. His irregular no-trump shut the opponents out of the bidding effectively. In addition, some other declarers might have had a spade led against them, in which case there would be no time to try diamonds even if clubs ran.

So South led his four of clubs and played dummy's six spot after West followed with the deuce. South still had to lose one club trick, but now he was very happy about the whole thing.

XXIV Angling toward the stock yards in this uncertain light he was rounding the rear of Bernagrow's saddle shop. If the horse hadn't been stolen it seemed a pretty good bet the animal probably had been penned up some place inside the confines of Spangler's range. And, in a moment, when something whipped that case, it seemed to Jones, the coroner's cousin, Charco Tavares, would be the man to get in touch with. And right now, by grab, while Geetch was here in town, looked the best time to take a stab at it, horse with his spurs and, flat-

He went first to the two saloons and, not finding him there, cut back toward the combination office and jail. Dusk was beginning to dark- en the view and several shop- keepers had got their lamps lit in the hope of enticing into their tills some of the out-of-town dollars still res- tively tramping the warped plank walks.

NEWS ITEMS FROM PATTERSON AREA

PATTERSON — Mrs. Cora Bain and her daughter, Mrs. Edith Nicholson of Medford, Oregon, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. William Ford to Granite City during the weekend where they visited in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bain and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Claxton. The ladies also visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bain and family and with Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Bain and family, before returning home.

Mrs. Arthur Cox and children of Hillview vicinity visited Monday evening with her sister, Mrs. Martha Patton and family. Alan McKinney of Jacksonville spent from Saturday until Wednesday in the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Barnett, while his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Robert McKinney, attended a convention in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Johnson and Mrs. Cora Augur of Roodhouse visited Friday evening with Cora Bain and her daughter, Mrs. Edith Nicholson. Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hubbard visited Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Perry Canatsey, in Jacksonville.

Miss Aleata Taylor has returned home to Roodhouse after spending a few days last week with her aunt, Miss Myrtle Taylor.

CHURCH BENEFIT AT MANCHESTER "HUGE SUCCESS"

MANCHESTER — The Pancake and Sausage supper sponsored by the Men's Group of the local Methodist church and served last week, has been termed a huge success with a net profit of $550 obtained for the church.

A final tally shows that total sales amounted to $640 and expenses reached $90. All the labor involved and many of the supplies were donated. Ticket sales brought $377, the sale of meat yielded $203 and $60 in contributions were received. Church members have expressed thanks to all who participated.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jones are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Roe of East Alton.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ballard and Mrs. Beverly Newton and daughter of Jerseyville were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lawson.

Joe Lawson is confined to his home by illness.

DOUBLE TROUBLE — They say it's that way with twins. It certainly is with Linda (left) and Marlene Cohn of Cincinnati. When Linda slipped on the icy steps going to school, Marlene did the only logical thing. She helped her sister back into the house and went out to pick up her books. Marlene slipped on the same steps and suffered an identical injury — a sprained left arm. (NEA Telephoto)

Smith Services
In City Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Dollie Smith were held at 1 p.m. Friday at Gillham-Buchanan Funeral Home with Reverend William J. Boston officiating. Mrs. Gaylord Swisher, soloist, sang "Beyond The Sunset" and "Going Down The Valley," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Donald Wood.

Caring for the flowers were Mrs. Mary Sears, Mrs. JoAnn Landis and Mrs. Rosemary Miller. Pallbearers were Howard Means, Howard Farmer, Albert

Miller, Carroll Sears, Ralph Cook and George Sudeth. Because of the condition of the roads, interment, to be made in Hebron cemetery, was delayed until 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

Three Injured
Near Waverly

Three persons were hospitalized as a result of a two-car accident on Ill. 104 about a mile west of Waverly early Friday evening. Taken to Holy Cross hospital for treatment of injuries were Freeman Owens, 36, of Virginia and Beverly Ball, 17, and Bill Newman, 19, born or waverly. All three sustained lacerations and abrasions, and were reported in good condition by hospital authorities that night.

State police reported that Newman, westbound toward Jacksonville, said he lost control of his car when it struck a snowbank on the edge of the highway.

Newman's car then veered into the path of the car driven by Owens. Both cars were removed from the scene by wrecker. State police listed the time of the accident about seven o'clock.

EMPORIUM
EAST STATE STREET

ONE HUNDRED AND TEN Illinois farmers from 58 counties met with their representatives in Congress Thursday and Friday of last week to get support for Farm Bureau's wheat and feed grain legislative proposal.

William J. Kuhfuss, Illinois Agricultural association president, headed the "Farmers to Washington" visit.

The farmers also spoke out in favor of an amendment to the U. S. Constitution which would allow states to apportion one house of the state legislatures on the basis of factors other than population.

Findley Strikes U.S. Feed Grain Program

WASHINGTON, D.C. — In remarks on the House floor Tuesday U.S. Rep. Paul Findley (R-Ill.) blamed "maladministration of the feed grains program for a $2.8 billion drop in livestock and poultry farm inventory values in the past two years.

"Under the feed grains program, which began in 1961, market prices were driven down and kept down by government dumping. Cheap corn always means cheap livestock. This rule of economic life invited overproduction of livestock and this, in turn, triggered low hog and cattle prices.

"The numbers of livestock and poultry have not shifted appreciably in the past two years, but values have. The aggregate value of livestock and poultry on the farm on January 1, 1963 was $17,251,000,000. Figures for January 1, 1965, just released by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, show this figure had skidded in just two years to $14,427,000,000—a drop of over $2.8 billion.

Began Early In '63

"The adverse effect of the feed grains program had filtered through the farm economic system by early 1963, and by the end of the year it was almost devastating.

"Illinois has been hit especially hard, due to the importance of hog and cattle production in our state. The aggregate value of livestock and poultry on farm dropped $136 million during the same two-year period. On January 1, 1963, it was $812 million. On January 1, 1965, it had skidded to $676 million.

"Cattle dropped from $142 per head to $118, while hogs went from $28.30 to $25.70.

Little Number Change Here

"The change in total numbers was not significant. For the nation cattle increased from 104 million to 107 million, while hogs dropped from 59 million to 53 million. In Illinois, cattle held even while hogs declined only slightly from 7.9 million to 7.4 million.

"When all the facts are in, the feed grains program—with its colossal cost to taxpayers, its adverse effect on our private grain merchandising system, and now its staggering blow to on-farm livestock values—will go down in history as the prize example of how-not-to-administer farm programs."

Warns Sprays No Help In Dwarf Mosaic War

URBANA — Reports from several areas in Illinois indicate that "spray specialists" are selling "protection" against maize dwarf mosaic by controlling aphids that spread the virus.

University of Illinois plant pathologist Mal Shurtleff advises: Don't buy this kind of "protection."

The U. of I. doesn't recommend chemical control of aphid vectors because it simply doesn't work. The aphids feed and transmit the virus before insecticides have a chance to kill.

Shurtleff reports that a year ago entomologists in Mississippi applied a total of 27 sprays—both systemic and long-lasting protective insecticides singly and together—a weekly and even twice-weekly intervals. The spray experiments included practically all of our most potent insecticides and early, mid- and late-season applications in addition to season-long applications. The best control in these large scale experiments was less than one-tenth of one percent.

The only controls U. of I. specialists visualize at present for maize dwarf mosaic are the use of resistant hybrids and varieties—none available in 1965—and the control of perennial host grasses, such as Johnson grass, and winter annuals, such as downy brome and Japanese chess.

At present University of Illinois researchers are screening varieties and lines of corn for resistance to both the virus(es) and aphids. Plant pathologists are conducting further tests to pinpoint the characteristics of the virus or viruses involved in the spread of maize dwarf mosaic, Shurtleff reports.

Farmers Join In $16 Million NH3 Plant

FS Services, Inc., will own one half of a $16 million modern anhydrous ammonia plant that will be constructed on the Mississippi River south of Baton Rouge La., announced C. H. Becker, executive vice president and general manager.

FS will share equal ownership of the new 1,000-ton-a-day fertilizer plant with the First Mississippi Corporation, Jackson, Miss. Name of the new multi-million dollar facility will be First Nitrogen Corp.

Becker said that because of the new fertilizer plant, farmers will realize a substantial reduction in the net cost of anhydrous ammonia. FS, which serves farmers in Illinois and Iowa, is a farmer-owned cooperative dealing in feed, fertilizer, petroleum, and related supplies.

Construction of the new plant is scheduled to begin in July and is expected to be completed in February, 1966. The plant site is at Donaldsonville, La., about 35 miles south of Baton Rouge. Becker said this site was selected because it is close to an unlimited supply of natural gas and can take advantage of low cost water transportation. The plant will be accessible by both sea and river traffic.

Total output of the new plant will be sold to Central Farmers Fertilizer Company of Chicago, which consists of 23 regional farm cooperatives in the United States including FS. Nine of Central Farmers' member companies located in the Midwest, will purchase the bulk of the fertilizer with about one-third of the total output going to FS.

Most of the fertilizer will be barged up the Mississippi River to river storage terminals along the Illinois, Ohio, and Mississippi Rivers. Central Farmers will construct and own storage facilities at Kingston Mines on the Illinois River; at Albany, Ill., and Pine Bend, Minn., on the Mississippi River; and a site not yet selected on the Ohio River. Additional storage facilities will be constructed at other locations as the need develops.

KRAMP ADDRESSES CASS COUNTY NFO

Leonard W. Kramp of Alexander, president of the Illinois NFO, was the speaker at the February meeting of the Cass County National Farmers Organization held at the El-Way cafe in Virginia.

Roscoe Morris, Jr., Cass NFO president, presided.

Kramp gave many points of interest on the progress of what he termed "very successful marketing arrangements" being used by NFO members over a 24-state area.

The next meeting will be held at the same place March 26.

Kuhnline Heads Pork Producers

CARROLLTON — Francis Kuhnline of Greenfield was elected president of the Greene County Swine Producers association at a meeting of the board of directors held Monday evening in the Farm Bureau building.

Other officers elected were Billy L. Pembroke, Greenfield, vice president; Lee Pohlman, Carrollton, secretary; and Francis Hartwick, Carrollton, treasurer.

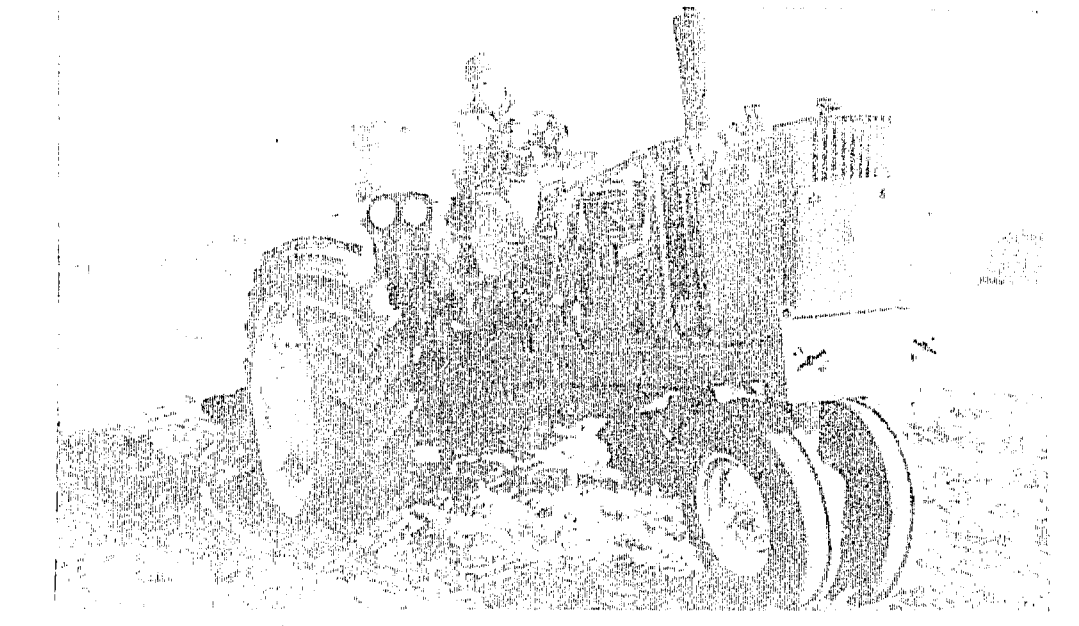

The other members of the board are George Cummings of White Hall and Tom Ballard of Carrollton.

The next regular meeting of the association will be March 12 when the group will go to Quincy to tour Moorman's feed manufacturing plant and research farms.

BUY SAVINGS BONDS

H. H. HADLEY, U.I. plant geneticist, uses a binocular loop magnifier to examine the pollen in a flower (inset) from a plant which resulted from a cross between two wild ancestors of today's modern soybean. Hadley is working to establish a male-sterile genetic system in soybeans. The discovery would be a major step toward developing a hybrid soybean.

FIELD TESTS of this 80 HP tractor with a modified carburetor and ignition system show fuel savings of 10 to 15 percent without loss of horsepower. Recording units mounted on tractors in University of Illinois studies measured the horsepower load on tractors for all types of farm operations. The records show that the average load on a farm tractor is about one-half of its maximum horsepower.

In the second photo Roy Brockett, senior laboratory mechanic, points to the additional jet in the modified carburetor which automatically opens to add fuel when the tractor engine is loaded to about four-fifths of its maximum horsepower. The regular jet is sized to give lean, economical air-fuel ratios during the majority of the tractor's operating hours. The modification would save about $350 in fuel costs during the tractor's expected lifetime.

ADVERTISE — IT PAYS

To Attend 4-H Camp Workshop

Dale Millis, assistant farm adviser in Morgan county, will attend a workshop in Urbana Tuesday through Thursday on plans for conducting the six 4-H camps in Illinois next summer.

He is chairman of the program and personnel committee of the Western Illinois camp at Lake Jacksonville.

Other officers of the local camp who will attend the three day conference are Bob Lahne, Calhoun county farm adviser; Jean Pickett, Sangamon assistant home adviser, and Linda Foreman, Macoupin assistant home adviser.

Institute For FB Directors

Six directors of the Morgan County Farm Bureau will attend a Directors' Institute sponsored by the Illinois Agriculture association Monday and Tuesday. It will be held in the Leland hotel, Springfield.

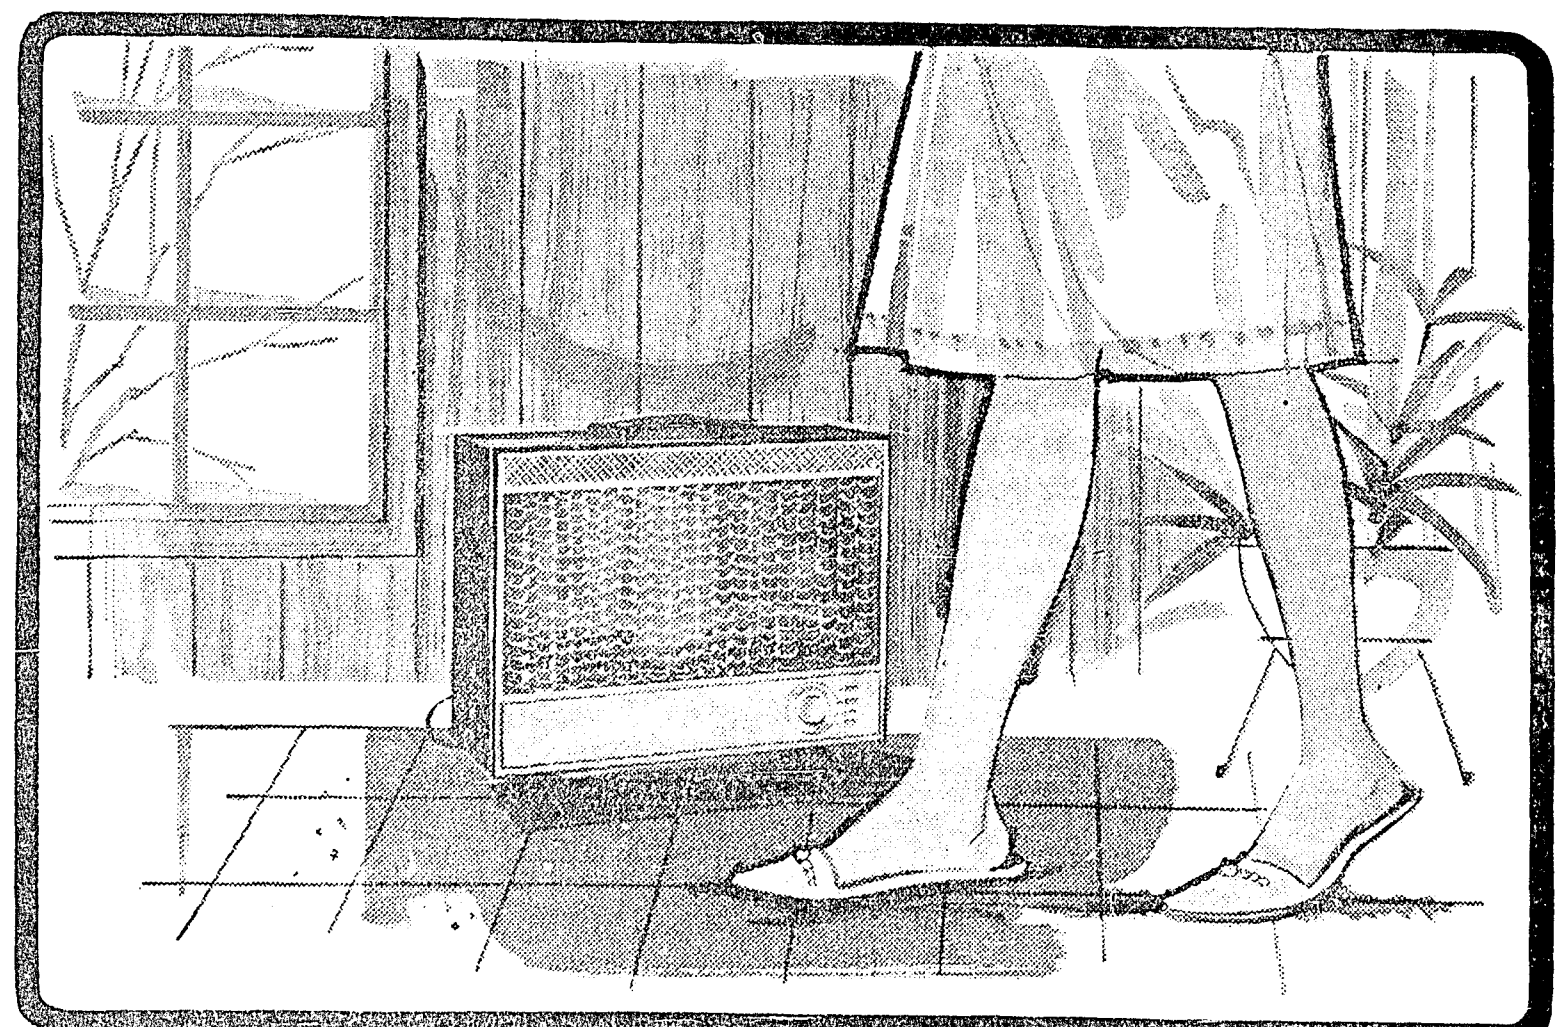

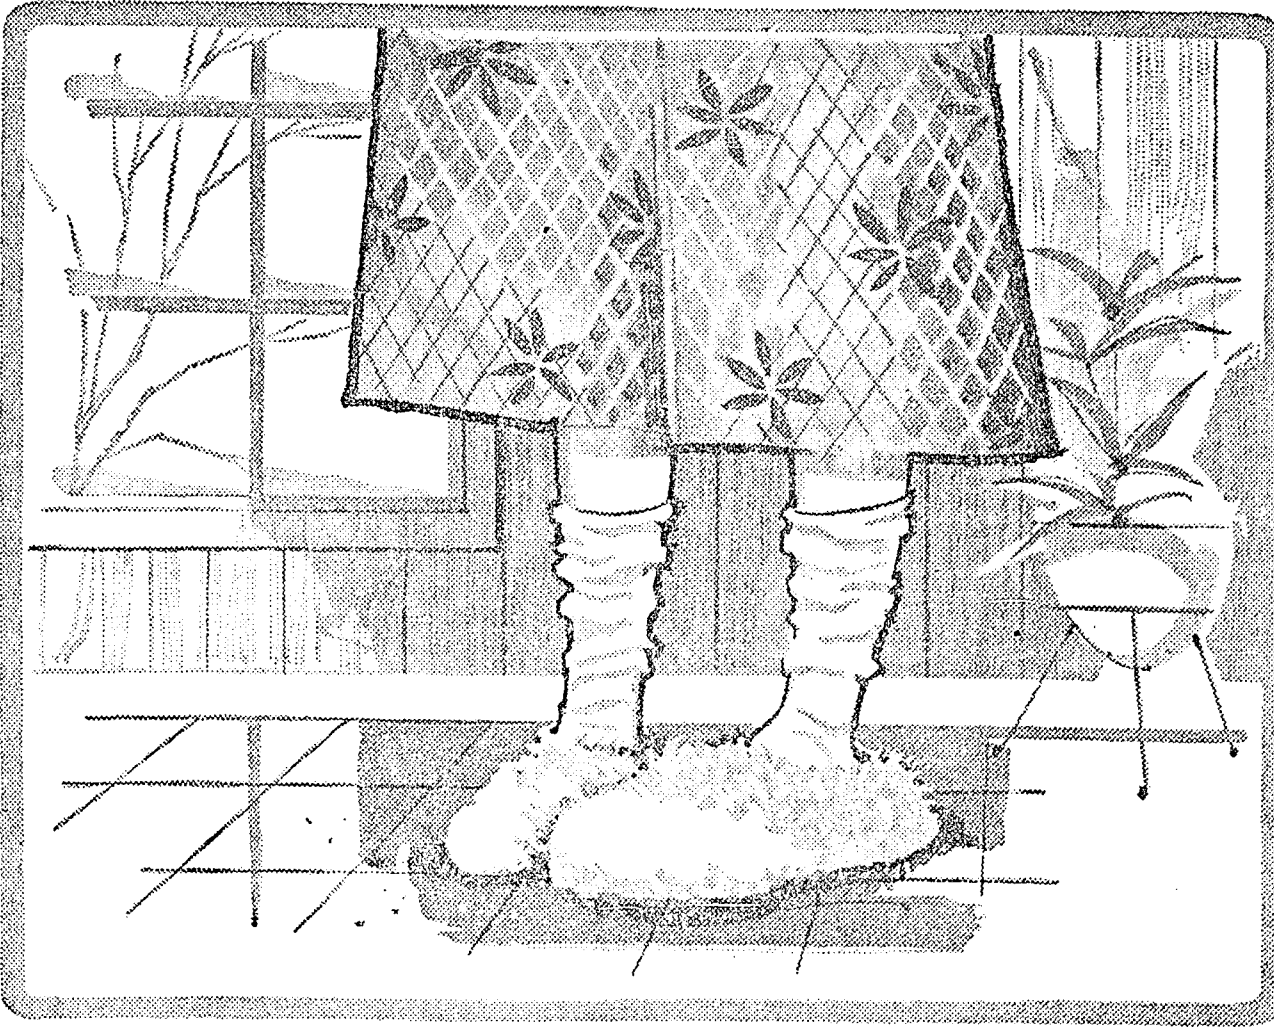

Cary Strang of Murrayville, Farm Bureau president, will head the local delegations: Edwin Clayton, Franklin; Lloyd Smith, Alexander; Walter Alhorn, Meredosia; Clyde York and Paul S. Black, Jacksonville.

They will be accompanied by John Chambers, organization director.

OLIVER GUEST DAY IN PRENTICE MONDAY

Farm families from Sangamon, Morgan, Cass and Menard counties will be guests of Wyant Implement, Inc. Oliver farm equipment dealer at Prentice, at an Oliver Farm Fair Monday.

The open house, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., will feature many of the 1965 Oliver farm machines and movies will be shown throughout the day.

Jacksonville Buries Griffin In 83-55 Landslide

Highlanders Fall To Bears By 98-72

ST. LOUIS — Hitting at a blistering 53% from the field, the Washington University Bears dumped the MacMurray Highlanders 98-72 here Friday night behind a 32 point performance by forward Wayne Williams. The win was Washington's last out before entering the NCAA Small College division National Championships at Warrenburg, Ohio next week.

The Bears open up an early six point lead, 10-4, after the first four minutes of play, but three consecutive field goals by Clann forward Tom Zurekmaner cut the Bear advantage to two.

Washington then started to take advantage of their superior height, gaining four straight tip-ins to move ahead of the idle Highlanders 21-13. Buckets by Mac forward Harry Matheny and center Brian Phegley brought the visitors into contention, but Williams countered with two of his own to thwart the uprising.

Forced to trade baskets at a 2-1 ratio, the Highlanders found themselves on the short end of a 56-35 halftime tally. Williams collected 14 of his 32 points in the half, while Zurekmaner paced the Clan with 11.

The Bears cooled off a little from their 60% shooting average in the first half but not enough for the Highlanders to gain the advantage. Jim Hargrave, 6'2" guard from Carbondale led the Highlanders in the opening minutes of the half with four conversions from the outside, but the Washington five had a sharpshooters of Gillespie hit on 29 of 38 free attempts, while Southwestern connected on 27 of 35 ties from 15 feet. From the field Gillespie outshot the losers, 40% to 29%. The losers' Ed Campion led all scorers with 22, while Gillespie had four in double figures led by Bob Best's 21.

Triopia Surprises North Greene 59-31

WHITE HALL — Triopia surprised the high-flying North Greene Spartans here Friday night, rolling to a 59-31 season-ending triumph over the high-scoring hosts.

The Triopia defense held North Greene to only 12 points in the first half, and five in the final eight minutes.

Much of the difference came off the boards, as the Trojans picked off 64 to North Greene's 33. From the field Triopia hit a hot 48.8% on 21 of 43 attempts, while the Spartans were just the opposite, connecting on a cold 26% on 13 of 50 tries.

Triopia held a slim 10-7 first quarter lead, as Roger Burrus brought the Trojans from a 5-2 deficit with two quick fielders to give the visitors the lead for good.

At halftime it was 26-12 and the Trojans added three points to that in the third, wrapping the contest up with a decisive 16-5 difference in the final eight minutes.

Triopia connected on 17 of 30 from the foul line, as 18 fouls were whistled on North Greene to only eight on the visitors.

The loss snapped a 12-game North Greene winning streak, nine in a row at home.

Triopia closed out their regular season with an 18-4 reading, while North Greene took only its third loss in 24 games.

Four players hit double figures for the winners, led by Phelps Shepard's 16 and Burrus' 14.

Hubbard Sparks 77-39 P. Hill Edge

PLEASANT HILL — Randy Hubbard scored 21 points in the first half, 14 of them in the second period, to pace the Pleasant Hill Wolves to an easy 77-39 trouncing of the Liberty five in a non-conference contest here Friday night. The game was the finale for both clubs before entering into the state tournament next week.

The Wolves jumped off to an early 14-3 spread in the first quarter, and moved out to a 16-8 advantage after the frame. Hubbard continued to spark the Pleasant Hill attack with seven field goals as they led 40-16 at the intermission.

Keeping the pressure on in the third quarter, the Wolves again dominated the second half play, with Terry Johnson leading the charge. Johnson tallied 13 of his 18 points in the half, running the home town five's bulge to 64-26 going into the final eight minutes of play and putting the game well out of reach.

Hubbard's 31 point performance was enough for high scoring honors, while Johnson was runner-up with 18. The win leaves the Wolves with a 20-3 season record, while Liberty stands at 5-17.

Panthers Slip Past Bethalto

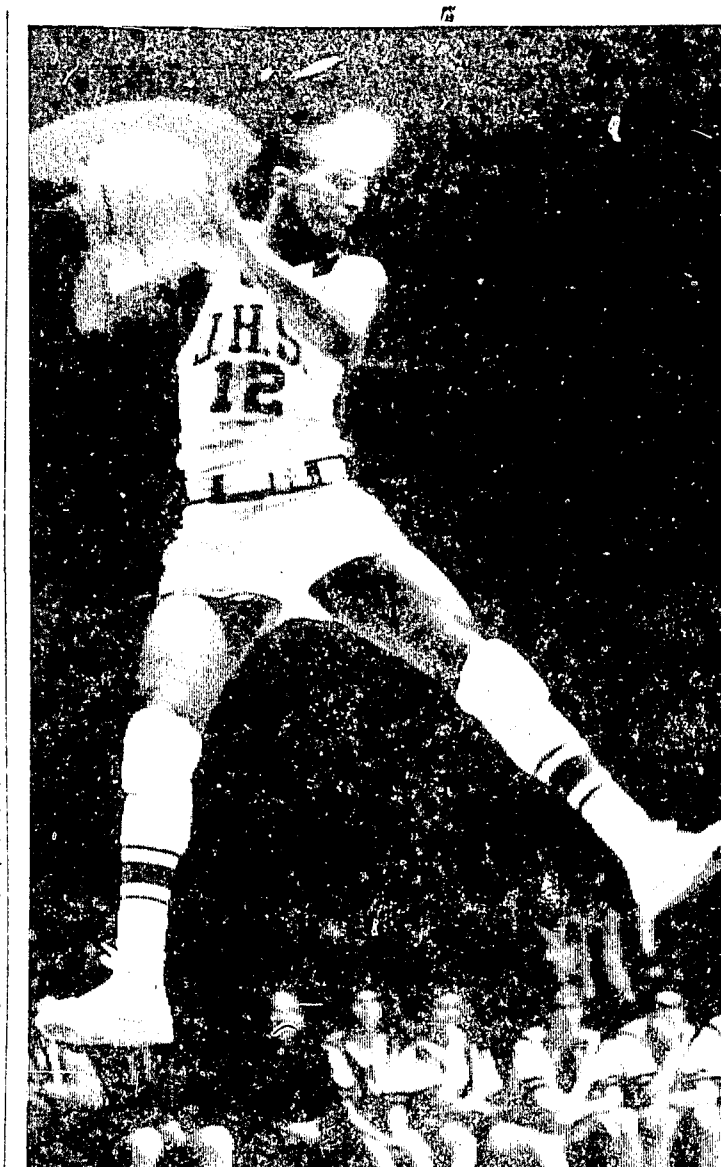

JERSEYVILLE — Despite a 36 point performance by Bethalto center Jim Drake, the Tigers were downed by the Jerseyville Panthers here Friday night by a 73-70 count. The Panthers were out-scored in each of the last two periods but managed to hold on to a 10 point first half advantage for the win.

Bethalto capped an early 10-5 lead midway through the first quarter, but the Panthers managed to knot the contest at 16 all and move ahead 18-16 on two free throws by guard Gary Goodman as the quarter ended.

Coming out firing in the second frame, the Jerseyville quintet hit consistently from underneath on the shooting of forwards Jim Bauman and Jerry Whitlock to build up a 12 point spread, 32-20, with 2:00 to go in the half. Buckets by Drake and guard Tom Schlier cut the Panthers' margin to eighth, but they managed to hold off the visitors, 53-25 at the intermission.

Both teams played even ball throughout the third quarter as Drake dropped in 13 to pace the Bethalto uprising with left hand

Midkiff Hits 25 In Hawks' Edge

CARLINVILLE — Behind the 25 point performance of Dick Midkiff, the Carrollton Hawks pulled up a 12 point halftime advantage and coasted home with a 70-54 triumph over the Carlinville Cavaliers here Friday night. The non-conference tilt saw Midkiff record 14 of his 25 points in the second quarter, which later proved to be the deciding factor in the contest.

Carlinville opened up the first period, grabbing a 5-0 spread, but the Hawks found the range midway through the quarter, finally knotting the score at 15 all. With 7:10 remaining in the first half the visitors took the lead for the final time, as their height advantage paid off underneath.

The second half was even all the way, with the Cavalier unable to get a sustained drive underway.

Franklin Cops 15th Win, 55-48

FRANKLIN — The Franklin Flashes overcame an early deficit here Friday night then rolled on to a 55-48 season-ending triumph over Greenfield.

Franklin trailed 14-8 at the first break but held a 17-6 difference in the second for a five-point edge at intermission.

For the half the Flashes shot a cold 24% from the field to Greenfield's 36%.

Bill Gordon threw in 19 and John Ebrey 11 for the winners, while Greg Mears and Steve Rives combined for 25 of Greenfield's total.

Franklin ended the year with a 15-8 mark while Greenfield had a four-game winning streak snapped and finished at 7-14.

Whitaker Gets 27 In 19th Decision

By BUFORD GREEN

Jacksonville put on one of its best offensive performances of the year as a treat in its final home regular season outing of the year Friday night, breezing by Griffin for the second time, 83-55.

Hitting on 51% of their shots from the field, and collecting 27 points off 26 fouls whistled on the visitors, the Crimson were in command after the first three minutes of the Capital Conference contest.

Stellar guard Creston Whitaker turned in still another outstanding offensive performance, canning 27 points in three and a half quarters, but got plenty of help from three other teammates in double figures.

After experiencing some mild trouble in the opening minute and 30 seconds, Jacksonville spurred in front to stay with Whitaker carrying the load.

From there it was just a matter of how far Jacksonville would pull away. By halftime, with a late spurt, the Crimson led by 18, and the lead reached 24 points in the third frame.

The victory boosts the Jacks season mark to 19-4, and leaves Griffin with a 9-13 reading.

After the game was tied at 2-2 and 4-4, Whitaker ripped off five points in less than a minute and Jacksonville took a 7-4 edge. Steve Bone canned a fielder and Ron Coleman a free toss to go with two more charity throws by Whitaker for a 12-5 edge with 3:45 left to play in the quarter.

Hess Has Good Game

Dean Hess got his first bucket in what turned out to be his best offensive output of the campaign with three minutes left, and soon added another from 20 feet. Free throws by Dennis Wegehoff and another free toss by Whitaker ran the difference to 21-13 at the close of the round, with Whitaker getting ten of the 21 markers.

The difference quickly shot into double figures in the second frame, with Wegehoff, Hess and Coleman each canning a pair of buckets. Six straight points in one stretch and seven in another pushed the Crimson to an 18-point bulge at 37-19 with 3:41 still left to play in the half.

After Griffin closed the gap slightly to 43-28 with :36 left, Wegehoff canned a pair of gift shots with only seven seconds left then Dennis Sergeant pilfered a Griffin pass in bounds for a jumping two points and a 47-29 halftime margin.

54% First Half

Jacksonville hit 17 of 31 attempts in the half for a 54% rate, and outscored the slightly shorter Cyclones, 19-9. Whitaker scored 18 points in the half.

Frank Devocelle, Griffin's 6-3 center, got hot for the visitors in the second half, scoring nine points in the third frame, but Jacksonville continued to stash away the points at a rapid pace.

Whitaker added eight more to his total in the third, and Jacksonville increased the difference to 60-36 at one point and finally 63-41 at the close of the quarter.

The final eight minutes saw the difference reach 25 at the opening of the frame, then Griffin cut it to 19 twice. Tom Andrews poured in all seven of his points in the quarter and

Shot At Buzzer Defeats Comets

EASTON — An eight-foot hook shot at the final buzzer by Greenville center Bob Wahlbrink gave the Greenville quintet a 68-66 upset victory over the Chandlerville Comets in the Easton District Tournament here Friday night.

The Comets had possession of the ball with :30 remaining on the clock holding for one shot but an offensive foul gave the ball over to Greenville at :04 before Wahlbrink tallied the final bucket.

Chandlerville, who had been first seeded in the tourney, held the lead throughout most of the contest by five and six point margins, but fell prey to foul trouble in the closing minutes as their lead dwindled.

Comet guard Dale Edge paced all scorers with 23, while teammate Bill Collins and Greenville guard Tom Lyons each tallied 20.

The undersigned owners of the following described real estate will on

March 6, 1965, at 2:00 P.M.

at the Courthouse in Winchester, Illinois sell at public auction the following described real estate:

35 acres off of the West Side of the Southwest Quarter of the Southwest Quarter of Section 28 and 70 acres off of the West side of the West half of the Northwest Quarter of Section 35, all in Township 15
North and Range 12 West of the Third Principal Meridian, in the County of Scott and State of Illinois.
This farm is located 1/4 mile East of Merritt, Illinois, and consists of 105 acres, 97 acres of which are tillable farm land. There are no improvements except one 1,000 bushel corn crib. Purchaser will receive the landlord's share of 19 acres of growing wheat.

Terms of sale: 20% on day of sale and balance on approval of title and delivery of deed. Possession immediately subject to rights of present tenant which expire March 1, 1966. Abstract of title showing merchantable title will be furnished but in lieu thereof sellers at their option may elect to furnish title insurance issued by Chicago Title and Trust Company in the amount of the purchase price.

Subject to 1965 taxes payable in 1966 and all existing highways and easements.
For further information, contact auctioneer or attorneys.
